HISTORICAL

THE STATE

North Carolina, often called the "Tar Heel" state, was the scene of the first attempt to colonize America by English-speaking people. Under a charter granted to Sir Walter Raleigh by Queen Elizabeth, a colony was begun in the 1580's on Roanoke Island. This settlement, however, was unsuccessful and later became known as "The Lost Colony."

The first permanent settlement was made about 1650 by immigrants from Virginia. In 1663 Charles II granted to eight Lords Proprietors a charter for the territory lying "within six and thirty degrees of the northern latitude, and to the west as far as the south seas, and so southerly as far as the river St. Mattias, which bordereth upon the coast of Florida, and within one and thirty degrees of northern latitude, and so west in a direct line as far as the south seas aforesaid; . . ." and the colony was called Carolina. In 1665 another charter was granted to these noblemen. This charter extended the limits of Carolina so that the northern line was 36 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude, and the southern line was 29 degrees north latitude, and both of these lines extended westward to the South Seas.

In 1669 John Locke wrote the Fundamental Constitutions as a model for the government of Carolina. The Lords Proprietors adopted these constitutions and directed the governor to put into operation as much of them as was feasible. In 1670 there were four precincts (changed to counties in 1739); Pasquotank, Perquimans, Chowan, and Currituck. North Carolina now has one hundred counties.

Carolina on December 7, 1710, was divided into North Carolina and South Carolina, and Edward Hyde, on May 12, 1712, became the first governor of North Carolina.

In 1729 seven of the eight Lords Proprietors sold their interest in Carolina to the Crown and North Carolina became a royal colony. George Burrington was the first royal governor. Richard Everard, the last proprietary governor, served until Burrington was appointed.

North Carolina, on April 12, 1776, authorized her delegates in the Continental Congress to vote for independence, and on December 18, 1776, adopted a constitution. Richard Caswell became the first governor under this constitution. On November 21, 1789, the state adopted the United States Constitution, being the twelfth state to enter the Federal Union. North Carolina, in 1788, had rejected the Constitution on the grounds that certain amendments were vital and necessary to a free people.

A Constitutional convention was held in 1835 and among several changes made in the Constitution was the method of electing the governor. After this change the governor was elected by the people for a term of two years instead of being elected by the Legislature for a term of one year. Edward Bishop Dudley was the first governor elected by the people.

North Carolina seceded from the Union May 20, 1861, and was readmitted to the Union in July, 1868.

A new State Constitution was adopted in 1868 and since that date the governor has been elected by the people for four-year terms and he cannot succeed himself. There has not been a new constitution since 1868, but numerous amendments have been added to it.

North Carolina has had a democratic administration since 1900, during which period it has made its greatest progress.

North Carolina has had two permanent capitals—New Bern and Raleigh—and there have been three capitol buildings. Tryon's Palace in New Bern was constructed in the period, 1767-1770, and the main building was destroyed by fire February 27, 1798. The first capitol in Raleigh was completed in 1794 and was destroyed by fire on June 21, 1831. The present capitol was completed in 1840.

The state in 1790 ceded her western lands, which was composed of Washington, Davidson, Hawkins, Greene, Sullivan, Sumner, and Tennessee counties, to the Federal government, and between 1790 and 1796 the territory was known as Tennessee Territory, but in 1796 it became the fifteenth state in the Union.

In 1738, the General Assembly of North Carolina passed an act authorizing the establishment of district courts which served as appellate courts. These courts were authorized to be held in Bath, New Bern, and New Town—now Wilmington. In 1746, the General Assembly repealed the act of 1738 and established district courts to be held at Edenton, Wilmington, and Edgecombe. From 1754 until 1790, other districts were formed as the state expanded in territory and developed needs for these districts. By 1790, there were eight judicial districts divided into two ridings of four districts each. In 1806, the General Assembly passed an act establishing a superior court in each county. The act also set up judicial districts composed of certain contiguous counties, and this practice of expanding the districts has continued from five districts in 1806 until now there are thirty districts.

When North Carolina adopted the Federal Constitution on November 21, 1789, she was authorized to send two senators and five representatives to the Congress of the United States according to the constitutional apportionment. In 1792, when the first federal census had been completed and tabulated, it was found that North Carolina was entitled to ten representatives. It was then that the General Assembly divided the state into ten congressional districts. In 1812, the state had grown and increased in population until it was entitled to thirteen representatives in Congress. Between 1812 and 1865, however, the population decreased so much in proportion to the population of other states of the Union that North Carolina was by that time entitled only to seven representatives. After 1865 the population of the state showed a steady increase so that beginning in 1943 North Carolina was entitled to twelve representatives in Congress. The 1960 census showed that the state had nearly a half million more people than in 1950, but this increase was not nearly as much in proportion to that of some of the other states so, therefore, North Carolina will be entitled to only eleven representatives beginning with the 88th Congress which convenes in 1963.

AGRICULTURE

Total realized gross agricultural income to North Carolina farmers in 1959 amounted to $1,178 million. Although below the record high total of $1,240 million realized in 1958, the State's agricultural income in 1959 was second only to that for Texas among the Southern States of the Nation.

Income from sales of crops in 1959 accounted for $671 million, which figure was exceeded only by California, Texas and Illinois. This accomplishment was realized despite the fact that 1959 yields from some of the important cash crops were somewhat below previous levels.

Although income statistics are not yet available for 1960, it is anticipated that gross agricultural income in that year exceeded by a fairly substantial margin all previous records. For many of the important cash crops produced in the State, 1960 was an unusually good year. Record high per-acre yields were realized for tobacco, corn, soybeans, and sorghum gains, while peanut yields were well above average. Of the major crops harvested in the State during 1960, only cotton and small grains failed to produce yields up to past standards.

Record high yields of flue-cured tobacco contributed to a 19 percent increase in production during 1960 as compared with 1959. Furthermore, prices received in 1960 averaged more than 3 cents per pound above those received in 1959. The value of the 835 million pound crop produced in 1960, at $510.5 million, was more than $100 million above the $407 million evaluation for the preceding year.

Corn production in 1960 was at a record high level despite the fact that acreage has been trending downward for a number of years. This record high production resulted from a yield per acre 6 bushels above any previous record. Farmers harvested an average of 50 bushels per acre from slightly more than 1.9 million acres, giving a total production of approximately 97 million bushels. With prices in 1960 about comparable with those in 1959, last year's corn crop was worth approximately $12 million more than was the 1959 harvest.

Acreage devoted to production of soybeans continued to expand and the record high total of 565,000 acres harvested for beans in 1960 exceeded by 110,000 acres the previous record for 1959. Yield per acre was also at a record high level, and the 1960 production of soybeans was valued almost $5.2 million above that for 1959.

Last year's peanut crop, although not up to previous record high levels, yielded substantially better than in 1959, and harvest of 311.5 million pounds was about 30 million pounds above the previous year. Value of peanuts harvested in 1960, at $34.2 million, reflected a gain of slightly more than $4 million from the preceding year.

Thanks to record high yields per acre of sorghum grains, total production of sorghums in 1960 also exceeded all past records—the crop being valued about a quarter million dollars above the 1959 harvest.

Last year's cotton crop yielded comparatively poorly, due to damage from excessive moisture and insects. The harvested yield of 288 pounds per acre was 107 pounds below that of the preceding year. Total production amounted to only 235,000 bales, compared with 322,000 in 1959. Although farmers realized a slightly higher unit price for their 1960 cotton than in 1959, value of cotton and cottonseed produced in 1960 declined approximately $11 million from the preceding year.

Last year's harvest of all small grains was also reduced quite severely due primarily to much smaller acreages for harvest. Values placed on production of wheat, oats, rye, and barley in 1960 at $23.7 million was $4.9 million below the preceding year.

Smaller quantities of hay also cost farmers about $4 million as compared to 1959, while smaller acreages and lower prices for potatoes and sweet potatoes resulted in values for these crops about $2.6 million below the preceding year.

Prices received by farmers for beef animals in 1960 averaged somewhat below 1959, but marketings were quite heavy. Pork prices averaged slightly above the 1959 level, also, with very heavy marketings.

Broiler production of 154,300,000 birds was the highest of record, and prices received for broilers in 1960 exceeded those in 1959 by a small margin. Last year's broilers were valued at $81.5 million compared with $68.9 million in 1959.

Marketings of eggs and milk also are expected to have produced incomes equally as large as in 1959. Although estimates of income from livestock and livestock products in 1960 have not been completed, it is expected that the total will exceed by a fairly substantial margin the $297 million received from these commodities in 1959.

CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT

Notable progress continues to be made in the conservation, development and promotion of fuller and wiser use of North Carolina's large store of natural resources. Dividends are being realized in all sections of the State as a result of the more profitable utilization of these resources, particularly in the renewable forestry field where pulp and paper products continue to mount in importance.

While progress is noted in the conservation and development and wiser use of these resources, it is realized by those engaged in these fields of endeavor that the greatest potential of these natural resources remains to be reached and that continuing efforts must be made without abatement if satisfactory results are attained.

More than 200 area and local development groups are making valuable and lasting contributions in state-wide efforts to provide more industrial jobs for the people of North Carolina and thus bring about a better balance in the State's economy and a higher per capita income.

During the 1958-60 biennium investments in new and expanded manufacturing plants in North Carolina totaled $503,876,000; 64,567 new jobs were created; and $209,833,000 added in new payrolls. Investments in new and expanded manufacturing establishments during the 1956-58 biennium totaled $381,880,000; 36,140 new jobs created, and payrolls added amount to $112,994,600.

A State long noted for its leadership in the production of textile, tobacco, and furniture products, North Carolina is becoming renowned for the many diversified goods its approximate 7,300 manufacturing plants produce with their more than 500,000 employees for the markets of the nation and world.

Value of the industrial output in North Carolina in 1959 was listed by Industrial Development and Manufacturers Record, Atlanta, Ga., at $9,161,000,000 as compared with $7,409,000,000 in 1958. As a further illustration of the remarkable growth of industry and its ability to produce products having high value, it is interesting to note the output value of manufactured products in the State in 1939 was only $1,421,000,000.

Textiles, tobacco products, food, and furniture continue to lead in output and sales volume in North Carolina, but there is a steady increase being shown in the modern science industries now operating in the State. The emphasis being placed upon research in electronic, metallurgical, food processing and chemical industries is receiving national and international attention. The number of plants for processing of the several species of seafood taken from State-controlled waters is increasing and there is mounting interest being shown in the State's mineral resources, especially in the periodical searches for oil in the coastal area.

North Carolina's more than 500,000 workers in industry in the State continue to give industrial development groups the best kind of ammunition to use in the continuing efforts to bring more industries to North Carolina and to expand existing plants.

It is a matter of record that almost half of the total amount announced for investment in new and expanded plants in 1960 went for expansion of existing facilities, thus adding weight to the contention that North Carolina is a place where industry grows.

The adaptability, productivity and willingness of North Carolina workers to learn their assigned tasks and to give a day's work for a day's pay give the State the best kind of advertising directed at industrialists seeking new site locations in a State also noted for good government, fair and equitable tax laws, and generally good relations between management and labor.

As an illustration of the growth of industry in North Carolina of the value of output of the State's manufacturing plants, the following table is submitted:

	1959	1958	1957	1939

With the great emphasis on research, symbolized in the growing Research Triangle of North Carolina, products made by the diversified industries now operating in the State range in effect from aluminum and aircraft to zippers. Not only does the State lead the nation in textile, tobacco, wooden household furniture, but it also leads the South in brick manufacturing.

Examples of North Carolina's growing industrial diversification are noted in the current manufacture in the State of boilers and other metal products, cigarette paper, cellophane, electric equipment, helicopters, aluminum windows and jalousies, electric blankets, smoking pipes, wooden screws, missiles, pottery, particle and flake-boards, fish nets, zippers, and a widening variety of lesser known items.

North Carolina's 1,200 textile manufacturing plants provided employment in 1959 for approximately 223,000 workers and produced products valued at $3,104,000,000. The State's 100 tobacco plants employed 39,000 and products produced had a value of $2,321,000,000. Products having an output value of $355,000,000 were produced by 29,000 persons employed in the State's 200 or more apparel manufacturing plants.

The State's food processing industry continues to grow. Its growth is reflected in the fact that the number of food processing plants has increased to 900 largely as a result of concentrated efforts made at local and State levels to make more profitable use of food, fruits and seafood growth in the State. Approximately 33,000 persons were employed in food processing plants in the State in 1959, and they produced products having an output value of $723,000,000 as compared with $552,000,000 in 1957 and $237,000,000 in 1947.

The furniture industry continues to grow. The number of plants in North Carolina at the end of 1959 was approximately 500. In 1959 the 42,000 persons employed in these plants produced furniture products having an output value of $520,000,000 as compared with $376,000,000 in 1957 and $202,000,000 in 1947.

Steady growth is noted in the State's lumber industry. The 2,500 plants processing lumber and other products of North Carolina's vast forest lands in 1959 provided employment for 35,000 persons and produced products having an output value of $275,000,000 compared with $218,000,000 in 1954 and $193,000,000 in 1947.

The State's tourist industry continues to grow. In 1959 an estimated 23.3 million out-of-State people visited North Carolina to view its numerous scenic attractions and to enjoy themselves generally in resting and relaxing. The State's travel industry in 1959 was valued at $773,000,000, an increase of 8.5 per cent over 1958. More than 1,650,000 persons, an all time record, visited and used North Carolina's 11 State Parks in 1960.

The commercial fishing industry, which provides a livelihood in whole or in part for an estimated 25,000 persons, is being developed in an orderly and scientific manner. Through its Department of Conservation and Development, the State spent in excess of $500,000 during the 1948-60 period for planting of seed oysters and oyster shells in rehabilitation of the oyster industry, which suffered severely as a result of hurricanes of the past decade. The value to fishermen of finfish and shellfish taken from the State's inland waters in the 1958-60 biennium was $15,451,894 as compared with $15,046,380 for the 1956-58 biennium.

Progress is being shown by the State's minerals industry. The State contains almost 93 per cent of the nation's known reserves of lithium. The most important mineral deposits are sand, stone, and gravel, mica, feldspar and clays. It leads the nation in production of mica and feldspar. It is fifth in production of kaolin.

Two new divisions of the Department of Conservation and Development were created by acts of the General Assembly of 1957 and 1959 and began functioning. One is the Division of Community Planning, the other is the Geodetic Survey Division. They are providing long needed services in North Carolina.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN NORTH CAROLINA

North Carolina has a vigorous and effective program of public health.

The State Board of Health and the 71 local health departments serving the 100 counties assure an alert concern for the health conditions in all facilities serving the public. Basic State laws empower the health departments to inspect and regulate conditions affecting health.

While there were various laws and statutes relating to public health measures passed prior to that time, the State Board of Health was created by the General Assembly of 1877, and has been functioning, with changes from time to time, ever since. The General Assembly of 1957 recodified all public health and related laws of North Carolina. This was done for purposes of coordination and clarification. Guilford has the distinction of being the first county in the United States to inaugurate full-time county health work June 20, 1911. The following year, Robeson became the first purely rural county in the United States to take this step.

Compulsory immunization of children under six for poliomyelitis, air pollution and environmental surveys, and the establishment of a coordinated State Radiological Program illustrate some of the aspects of North Carolina's progressive public health program. The State published the nation's first Occupational Health Manual in 1961.

Nearly a million dollars a year is being spent on surgical, medical and hospital service to handicapped children. We have a progressive school-health coordinating unit and programs of service are being carried on for the aged and for the chronically ill. Many preventive services are rendered by the modern Laboratory Division and by both the consultant staff of the State Board and by the staffs of the local health departments.

STATE HIGHWAY SYSTEMS

On January 1, 1960, the State had under its direct jurisdiction 71,344 miles of highways, roads and streets, a distance equivalent to two and one half times around the world at the equator. This vast mileage is almost 11 per cent of the gross length of all mileage under State control in the entire Nation. The three basic systems in this North Carolina network are as follows:

The Primary State Highway System in rural areas is made up of the U. S., N. C. and Interstate numbered routes, and has a length of 11,290 miles, substantially all hard surfaced. The largest of the three systems is the Rural Secondary System of 57,210 miles, of which 24,707 miles are paved—the remainder being surfaced with stone, soil or other all weather material. There is more rural paving in North Carolina than in any other state except Texas, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Some 96% of the State's rural people live on, or within one mile of a paved highway or road.

In addition to these two rural systems, the State has jurisdiction over 2,844 miles of streets which form a part of the State Highway and Road Systems in Municipalities. Of this Municipal System, 2,593 miles are paved.

Combining the three systems, the State operates a network of 38,505 miles of paved and 32,839 miles of unpaved highways, roads and streets. The State has direct jurisdiction over more mileage than has any other road governing body in the nation. In terms of size and population, no other state exceeds North Carolina in the extent of road services provided for its people. There are no toll roads, bridges or ferries in North Carolina.

Major emphasis is now being placed on modernizing many obsolete sections of the Primary System, and building the Interstate Expressway System. Some 200 miles of the latter have already been built and opened to traffic.

Since 1921, the entire Road and Highway Program of the State has been financed exclusively from the gasoline tax, motor vehicle license fees and Federal Aid, without recourse to property taxation or aid from the General State Fund. During the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1960, the State Highway Fund, including Federal Aid, expended $173,489,058 for highway, road, and street construction, maintenance, betterments and improvements, including the operation of the Motor Vehicle Department, Highway Patrol, Highway Safety Division, several other state agencies, and the retirement of Secondary Road Bonds.

RURAL ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE SERVICE

Rural areas of North Carolina received little benefits from rural electrification prior to 1935, which is often spoken of as the starting point. At that time, only 1,884 miles of rural lines serving 11,558 farms were recorded by the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority, which was created in that year to secure electric service for the rural areas. Today the Authority reports in operation 84,857 miles of rural lines serving 626,533 consumers. In addition to this, there were 385 miles under construction or authorized for construction to serve 3,259 consumers. Electrification has contributed considerably to the great progress in agricultural development over the past few years. The electrified farm provides for comfort and health in farm living through lighting, refrigeration, communication, ranges, washing machines, freezers, plumbing and all other many useful household electric appliances.

Electric service is essential to modern farm production. Electricity is used by farmers in many ways—yard and building lighting; running water; poultry incubators, brooders, and feeders; livestock feeding; milking; grain and hay driers, irrigation; and many other electric-motor driven pieces of farm producing equipment. Electricity affords fire protection and the operation of many labor-saving devices for the rural home and farm activities. Electric service is practically essential in types of farm production; for example, the production of Grade A Milk.

The 1945 United States Census indicated that only 14,539 North Carolina farms had telephone service. The desire and need in the rural areas for communication, so essential to the wellbeing of the people was so widespread that the 1945 General Assembly enacted the Rural Telephone Act, charging the North Carolina Rural Electrification Authority with the responsibility of assisting rural residences in securing telephone service. Funds and personnel were first assigned to the program in 1949, which might well be termed the active beginning. Through the activities of the State Authority and other State Agencies and as a result of cooperation on the part of the telephone industry and the organization of a number of member owned Telephone Membership Corporations, over four times as many farms now have telephone service as in 1945. In addition, approximately 160,000 rural nonfarm residences also have service.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

North Carolina provides a basic State-supported nine months public school term, which is supplemented by the 174 local units. Public school enrollment in 1959-60 was 1,105,677. There were 37,212 teachers and 2,101 principals and supervisors and 174 superintendents. More than two-thirds of all general fund taxes collected by the State are used for education. The State operates a bus fleet of 8,242 vehicles, transporting 537,358 children to the public schools. Attendance is compulsory for children between ages 7 and 16. There are 3,202 public school buildings and the total value of public school property is $711,454,884.

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

The University of North Carolina, chartered in 1789, was the first State university to open its doors. The Greater University of North Carolina is comprised of the University at Chapel Hill, State College at Raleigh, and Woman's College at Greensboro. In all there are 64 institutions of higher learning in the State. Twelve are State-supported. Forty-seven are private or church-related. Five are public institutions with some State support. There are 36 senior, 24 junior, 1 theological seminary, and 3 unclassified institutions. Duke University in Durham is one of the most heavily endowed institutions of higher learning in the world. Total university and college enrollment in 1960-61 was 67,183.

THE STATE CAPITOL

The original State Capitol of North Carolina was destroyed by fire on June 21, 1831.

At the session of November, 1832, the Assembly resolved to rebuild on the old site, and $50,000 was appropriated for the purpose. Commissioners were appointed to have the work done. The rubbish was cleared away, the excavations made and the foundations were laid. On July 4, 1833, the cornerstone was set in place.

After the foundations were laid the work progressed more slowly, and it was so expensive that the appropriation was exhausted. The Legislature at its next session appropriated $75,000 more. To do the stone and finer work many skilled artisans had been brought from Scotland and other countries. The Building Commissioners contracted with David Paton to come to Raleigh and superintend the work. Mr. Paton was an architect, who had come from Scotland the year before. He was the builder, the architect, and designer.

The Legislature was compelled to make appropriations for the work from time to time. The following is a table of the several appropriations made:

Session of 1832-33	$ 50,000.00
Session of 1833-34	75,000.00
Session of 1834-35	75,000.00
Session of 1835	75,000.00
Session of 1836-37	120,000.00
Session of 1838-39	105,300.00
Session of 1840-41	31,374.46
Total	$531,674.46

The stone with which the building was erected was the property of the State. Had the State been compelled to purchase this material the cost of the Capitol would have been considerably increased.

In the summer of 1840 the work was finished. At last, after more than seven years, the sum of $531,674.46 was expended. As large as that sum was for the time, when the State was so poor and when the entire taxes for all State purposes reached less than

THE STATE CAPITOL.

$100,000, yet the people were satisfied. The building had been erected with rigorous economy, and it was an object of great pride to the people. Indeed, never was money better expended than in the erection of this noble Capitol.

Description of the Capitol, Written by David Paton, the Architect

"The State Capitol is 160 feet in length from north to south by 140 feet from east to west. The whole height is 97½ feet in the center. The apex of pediment is 64 feet in height. The stylobate is 18 feet in height. The columns of the east and west porticoes are 5 feet 2½ inches in diameter. An entablature, including blocking course, is continued around the building, 12 feet high.

"The columns and entablature are Grecian Doric, and copied from the Temple of Minerva, commonly called the Parthenon, which was erected in Athens about 500 years before Christ. An octagon tower surrounds the rotunda, which is ornamented with Grecian cornices, etc., and its dome is decorated at top with a similar ornament to that of the Choragic Monument of Lysicrates, commonly called the Lanthorn of Demosthenes.

"The interior of the Capitol is divided into three stories: First, the lower story, consisting of ten rooms, eight of which are appropriated as offices to the Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, and Comptroller, each having two rooms of the same size—the one containing an area of 649 square feet, the other 528 square feet—the two committee rooms, each containing 200 square feet and four closets; also the rotunda, corridors, vestibules, and piazzas, contain an area of 4,370 square feet. The vestibules are decorated with columns and antae, similar to those of the Ionic Temple on the Illyssus, near the Acropolis of Athens. The remainder is groined with stone and brick, springing from columns and pilasters of the Roman Doric.

"The second story consists of Senatorial and Representatives' chambers, the former containing an area of 2,515 and the latter 2,849 square feet. Four apartments enter from Senate Chamber, two of which contain each an area of 169 square feet, and the other two contain each an area of 154 square feet; also, two rooms enter from Representatives' chamber, each containing an area of 170 square feet; of two committee rooms, each containing an area of 231 square feet; of four presses and the passages, stairs, lobbies, and colonnades, containing an area of 3,204 square feet.

"The lobbies and Hall of Representatives have their columns and antae of the Octogan Tower of Andronicus Cyrrhestes and the plan of the hall is of the formation of the Greek theatre and the columns and antae in the Senatorial chamber and rotunda are of the Temple of Erectheus, Minerva, Polias, and Pandrosus, in the Acropolis of Athens, near the above named Parthenon.

"Third, or attic story, consists of rooms appropriated to the Supreme Court and Library, each containing an area of 693 square feet. Galleries of both houses have an area of 1,300 square feet; also two apartments entering from Senate gallery, each 169 square feet, of four presses and the lobbies' stairs, 988 square feet. These lobbies as well as rotunda, are lit with cupolas, and it is proposed to finish the court and library in the florid Gothic style."

THE STATE HOUSE (New Legislative Building)

1959, c. 938; 1959, c. 1039

Work on the construction of a new Legislative Building, authorized by the 1959 General Assembly, was begun the early part of 1961. The building, commonly referred to as The State House, will contain facilities necessary for the functioning of the General Assembly, including not only House and Senate chambers but adequate committee meeting rooms, an office for each member of the Legislature and offices for the various key employees of the House and Senate.

The new building, which will contain 206,050 square feet of space, is being erected across Halifax Street looking South to the State Capitol. There will be a mall between it and the Capitol building. The Commission anticipates the building will be completed and ready for occupancy for the 1963 General Assembly.

Members of the State Legislative Building Commission are: Thomas J. White, Chairman; B. I. Satterfield, Archie K. Davis, Robert F. Morgan, A. E. Finley, Oliver R. Rowe and Edwin Gill.

An Act to Establish a State Flag

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact :

Section 1. That the flag of North Carolina shall consist of a blue union, containing in the center thereof a white star with the letter N in gilt on the left and the letter C in gilt on the right of said star, the circle containing the same to be one-third the width of the union.

Sec. 2. That the fly of the flag shall consist of two equally proportioned bars; the upper bar to be red, the lower bar to be white; that the length of the bars horizontally shall be equal to the perpendicular length of the union, and the total length of the flag shall be one-third more than its width.

Sec. 3. That above the star in the center of the union there shall be a gilt scroll in semicircular form, containing in black letters this inscription: "May 20th, 1775," and that below the star there shall be a similar scroll containing in black letters the inscription: "April 12th, 1776."

In the General Assembly read three times and ratified this 9th day of March, A.D., 1885.

No change has been made in the flag since the passage of this act. By an act of 1907 it is provided:

"That the board of trustees or managers of the several State institutions and public buildings shall provide a North Carolina flag, of such dimensions and materials as they may deem best, and the same shall be displayed from a staff upon the top of each and every such building at all times except during inclement weather, and upon the death of any State officer or any prominent citizen the Flag shall be put at half-mast until the burial of such person shall have taken place.

"That the Board of County Commissioners of the several counties in this State shall likewise authorize the procuring of a North Carolina flag, to be displayed either on a staff upon the top, or draped behind the Judge's stand, in each and every courthouse in the State, and that the State flag shall be displayed at each and every term of court held, and on such other public occasions as the Commissioners may deem proper." (Rev., s. 5321; 1885 c. 291; 1907, c. 838.)

2. Resolved, That we the citizens of Mecklenburg County, do hereby dissolve the political bands which have connected us to the mother country and hereby absolve ourselves from all allegiance to the British Crown and abjure all political connection contract or association with that nation who have wantonly trampled on our rights and liberties and inhumanly shed the blood of American patriots at Lexington.

And that every member present of this delegation shall henceforth be a civil officer, viz., a justice of the peace, in the character of a "committee man" to issue process, hear and determine all matters of controversy according to said adopted laws and to preserve peace, union and harmony in said county, and to use every exertion to spread the love of Country and fire of freedom throughout America, until a more general and organized government be established in this Province.

THE GREAT SEAL

The Constitution of North Carolina, Article III, section 16, requires that

"There shall be a seal of the State which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him as occasion may require, and shall be called 'The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina.' All grants and Commissions shall be issued in the name and by the authority of the State of North Carolina, sealed with 'The Great Seal of the State,' signed by the Governor and countersigned by the Secretary of State."

The use of a Great Seal for the attestation of important documents began with the institution of government in North Carolina. There have been at various times nine different seals in use in the colony and State.

The present Great Seal of the State of North Carolina is described as follows:

"The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina is two and one-quarter inches in diameter, and its design is a representation of the figures of Liberty and Plenty, looking toward each other, but not more than half fronting each other, and otherwise disposed, as follows: Liberty, the first figure, standing, her pole with cap on it in her left hand and a scroll with the word 'Constitution' inscribed thereon in her right hand. Plenty, the second figure, sitting down, her right arm half extended toward Liberty, three heads of wheat in her right hand, and in her left the small end of her horn, the mouth of which is resting at her feet, and the contents of horn rolling out. In the exergon is inserted the words May 20, 1775, above the coat of arms. Around the circumference is the legend 'The Great Seal of the State of North Carolina' and the motto 'Esse Quam Videri'." (Rev., s. 5339; Code ss. 3328, 3329; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 35; 1883, c. 392; 1893, c. 145.)

THE STATE BIRD

By popular choice the Cardinal was selected for adoption as our State Bird as of March 4, 1943. (S. L. 1943 c. 595; G. S. 145-2.)

This bird is sometimes called the Winter Redbird because it is most conspicuous in winter and is the only "redbird" present at that season. It is an all year round resident and one of the commonest birds in our gardens and thickets. It is about the size of a Catbird with a longer tail, red all over, except that the throat and region around the bill is black; the head is conspicuously crested and the large stout bill is red; the female is much duller—the red being mostly confined to the crest, wings and tail. There are no seasonal changes in the plumage.

The Cardinal is a fine singer, and what is unusual among birds the female is said to sing as well as the male, which latter sex usually has a monopoly of that art in the feathered throngs.

The nest is rather an untidy affair built of weed stems, grass and similar materials in a low shrub, small tree or bunch of briars, usually not over four feet above the ground. The usual number of eggs to a set is three in this State, usually four further North. Possibly the Cardinal raises an extra brood down here to make up the difference, or possibly he can keep up his normal population more easily here through not having to face inclement winters of the colder North. A conspicuous bird faces more hazards.

The Cardinal is by nature a seed eater, but he does not dislike small fruits and insects.

THE HALIFAX RESOLUTION

Adopted by the Provincial Congress of North Carolina in Session at Halifax, April 12, 1776.

It appears to your committee that pursuant to the plan concerted by the British Ministry for subjugating America, the King and Parliament of Great Britain have usurped a power over the persons and properties of the people unlimited and uncontrolled; and disregarding their humble petitions for peace, liberty, and safety, have made divers legislative acts, denouncing war, famine, and every species of calamity, against the Continent in general. The British fleets and armies have been, and still are, daily employed in destroying the people, and committing the most horrid devastations on the country. The Governors in different Colonies have declared protection to slaves who should imbrue their hands in the blood of their masters. That ships belonging to America are declared prizes of war and many of them have been violently seized and confiscated. In consequence of all of which multitudes of the people have been destroyed, or from easy circumstances reduced to the most lamentable distress.

AND WHEREAS, The moderation, hitherto manifested by the United Colonies and their sincere desire to be reconciled to the mother country on constitutional principles, have procured no mitigation of the aforesaid wrongs and usurpations, and no hopes remain of obtaining redress by those means alone which have been hitherto tried, your committee are of opinion that the House should enter into the following resolve, to wit:

Resolved, That the delegates for this Colony in the Continental Congress be empowered to concur with the delegates of the other Colonies in declaring Independency, and forming foreign alliances, reserving to this Colony the sole and exclusive right of forming a Constitution and laws for this Colony, and of appointing delegates from time to time (under the direction of a general representation thereof), to meet the delegates of the other Colonies for such purposes as shall be hereafter pointed out.

NAME OF STATE AND NICKNAMES

In 1629 King Charles the First of England "erected into a province," all the land from Albemarle Sound on the north to the St. Jehn's River on the south, which he directed should be called Carolina. The word Carolina is from the word Carolus, the Latin form of Charles.

When Carolina was divided in 1710, the southern part was called South Carolina and the northern or older settlement was called North Carolina, or the "Old North State." Historians had recorded the fact that the principal products of this State were "tar, pitch and turpentine." It was during one of the fiercest battles of the War Between the States, so the story goes, that the column supporting the North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle the North Carolinians, who had successfully fought it out alone, were greeted from the passing derelict regiment with the question: "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?" Quick as a flash came the answer: "No; not a bit; old Jeff's bought it all up." "Is that so; what is he going to do with it?" was asked. "He is going to put it on you'uns heels to make you stick better in the next fight." Creecy relates that General Lee, hearing of the incident, said: "God bless the Tar Heel boys," and from that they took the name.—Adapted from Grandfather Tales of North Carolina by R. B. Creecy and Histories of North Carolina Regiments, Vol. III, by Walter Clark.

The State Motto

The General Assembly of 1893 (chapter 145) adopted the words "Esse Quam Videri" as the State's motto and directed that these words with the date "20 May, 1775," should be placed with our Coat of Arms upon the Great Seal of the State.

The words "Esse Quam Videri" mean "to be rather than to seem." Nearly every State has adopted a motto, generally in Latin. The reason for their mottoes being in Latin is that the Latin tongue is far more condensed and terse than the English. The three words, "Esse Quam Videri," require at least six English words to express the same idea.

Curiosity has been aroused to learn the origin of our State motto. It is found in Cicero in his essay on Friendship (Cicero de Amicitia, Chap. 26.)

It is a little singular that until the act of 1893 the sovereign State of North Carolina had no motto since its declaration of independence. It was one of the very few states which did not have a motto and the only one of the original thirteen without one. (Rev., s. 5320; 1893, c. 145; G. S. 144-2.)

The State Colors

The General Assembly of 1945 declared Red and Blue of shades appearing in the North Carolina State Flag and the American Flag as the official State Colors. (Session Laws, 1945, c. 878; G. S. 144-6.)

The State Flower

The General Assembly of 1941 designated the dogwood as the State flower. (Public Laws, 1941, c. 289; G. S. 145-1.)

The State's Toast

Officially adopted as the toast of North Carolina by the General Assembly of 1957. (Session Laws, 1957, c. 777.)

Here's to the land of the long leaf pine,
The summer land where the sun doth shine,
Where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great,
Here's to "Down Home," the Old North State!

Here's to the land of the cotton bloom white,
Where the scuppernong perfumes the breeze at night,
Where the soft southern moss and jessamine mate,
'Neath the murmuring pines of the Old North State!

Here's to the land where the galax grows,
Where the rhododendron's rosette glows,
Where soars Mount Mitchell's summit great,
In the "Land of the Sky," in the Old North State!

Here's to the land where maidens are fair,
Where friends are true and cold hearts rare,
The near land, the dear land whatever fate,
The blest land, the best land, the Old North State!

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations, for the preservation of the American Union and the existence of our civil, political and religious liberties, and acknowledging our dependence upon Him for the continuance of those blessings to us and our posterity, do, for the more certain security thereof, and for the better government of this State, ordain and establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE I

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

That the great, general and essential principals of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, and that the relations of this State to the Union and Government of the United States, and those of the people of this State to the rest of the American people may be defined and affirmed, we do declare:

Section 1. The equality and rights of persons. That we hold it to be self-evident that all persons are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, the enjoyment of the fruits of their own labor, and the pursuit of happiness.

Sec. 2. Political power and government. That all political power is vested in, and derived from, the people; all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole.

Sec. 3. Internal government of the State. That the people of this state have the inherent, sole and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof, and of altering and abolishing their Constitution and form of government whenever it may be necessary to their safety and happiness; but every such right should be exercised in pursuance of law, and consistently with the Constitution of the United States.

Sec. 4. That there is no right to secede. That this State shall ever remain a member of the American Union; that the people thereof are a part of the American Nation; that there is no right on the part of the State to secede, and that all attempts, from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve said Union or to sever said Nation, ought to be resisted with the whole power of the State.

Sec. 5. Of allegiance to the United States Government. That every citizen of this State owes paramount allegiance to the Constitution and Government of the United States, and that no law or ordinance of the State in contravention or subversion thereof can have any binding force.

Sec. 6. Public debt; bonds issued under Ordinance of Convention of 1868, '68-'69, '69-'70, declared invalid; exception. The State shall never assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any debt or obligation, express or implied, incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; nor shall the General Assembly assume or pay, or authorize the collection of any tax to pay, either directly or indirectly, expressed or implied, any debt or bond incurred, or issued, by authority of the Convention of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, nor any debt or bond incurred or issued by the Legislature of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, either at its special session of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, or at its regular sessions of the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, except the bonds issued to fund the interest on the old debt of the State, unless the proposing to pay the same shall have first been submitted to the people and by them ratified by the vote of a majority of all the qualified voters of the State, at a regular election held for that purpose.

Sec. 7. Exclusive emoluments, et cetera. No person or set of persons are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services.

Sec. 8. The legislative, executive and judicial powers distinct. The legislative, executive, and supreme judicial powers of the government ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.

Sec. 9. Of the power of suspending laws. All power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws, by any authority, without the consent of the representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights, and ought not to be exercised.

Sec. 10. Elections free. All elections ought to be free.

Sec. 11. In criminal prosecutions. In all criminal prosecutions, every person charged with crime has the right to be informed of the accusation and to confront the accusers and witnesses with other testimony, and to have counsel for defense, and not be compelled to give self-incriminating evidence, or to pay costs, jail fees, or necessary witness fees of the defense, unless found guilty.

Sec. 12. Answers to criminal charges. No person shall be put to answer any criminal charge except as hereinafter allowed, but by indictment, presentment, or impeachment. But any person, when represented by counsel, may, under such regulations as the Legislature shall prescribe, waive indictment in all except capital cases.

Sec. 13. Right of jury. No person shall be convicted of any crime but by the unanimous verdict of a jury of good and lawful persons in open court. The Legislature may, however, provide other means of trial, for petty misdemeanors, with the right of appeal.

Sec. 14. Excessive bail. Excessive bail should not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishments inflicted.

Sec. 15. General warrants. General warrants, whereby any officer or messenger may be commanded to search suspected places, without evidence of the act committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offense is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and ought not to be granted.

Sec. 16. Imprisonment for debt. There shall be no imprisonment for debt in this State, except in cases of fraud.

Sec. 17. No persons taken, etc., but by law of land. No person ought to be taken, imprisoned or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or outlawed or exiled, or in any manner deprived of his life, liberty or property, but by the law of the land.

Sec. 18. Persons restrained of liberty. Every person restrained of his liberty is entitled to a remedy to inquire into the lawfulness thereof, and to remove the same, if unlawful; and such remedy ought not to be denied or delayed.

Sec. 19. Controversies at law respecting property. In all controversies at law respecting property, the ancient mode of trial by jury is one of the best securities of the rights of the people, and ought to remain sacred and inviolable. No person shall be excluded from jury service on account of sex.

Sec. 20. Freedom of the press. The freedom of the press is one of the great bulwarks of liberty, and therefore ought never to be restrained, but every individual shall be held responsible for the abuse of the same.

Sec. 21. Habeas corpus. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended.

Sec. 22. Property qualification. As political rights and privileges are not dependent upon, or modified by, property, therefore no property qualification ought to affect the right to vote or hold office.

Sec. 23. Representation and taxation. The people of the State ought not to be taxed, or made subject to the payment of any impost or duty without the consent of themselves, or their representatives in General Assembly, freely given.

Sec. 24. Militia and the right to bear arms. A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be kept up, and the military should be kept under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power. Nothing herein contained shall justify the practice of carrying concealed weapons, or prevent the Legislature from enacting penal statutes against said practice.

Sec. 25. Right of the people to assemble together. The people have a right to assemble together to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the Legislature for redress of grievances. But secret political societies are dangerous to the liberties of a free people, and should not be tolerated.

Sec. 26. Religious liberty. All persons have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences, and no human authority should, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience.

Sec. 27. Education. The people have a right to the privilege of education, and it is the duty of the State to guard and maintain that right.

Sec. 28. Elections should be frequent. For redress of grievances, and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections should be often held.

Sec. 29. Recurrence to fundamental principles. A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.

Sec. 30. Hereditary emoluments, etc. No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors ought to be granted or conferred in this State.

Sec. 31. Perpetuities, etc. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free State, and ought not to be allowed.

Sec. 32. Ex post facto laws. Retrospective laws, punishing acts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust and incompatible with liberty; wherefore no ex post facto law ought to be made. No law taxing retrospectively sales, purchases, or other acts previously done, ought to be passed.

Sec. 33. Slavery prohibited. Slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than for crime, whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted, shall be, and are hereby, forever prohibited within the State.

Sec. 34. State boundaries. The limits and boundaries of the State shall be and remain as they now are.

Sec. 35. Courts shall be open. All courts shall be open; and every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay.

Sec. 36. Soldiers in time of peace. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but in a manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 37. Other rights of the people. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people; and all powers not herein delegated remain with the people.

ARTICLE II

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Two branches. The legislative authority shall be vested in two distinct branches, both dependent on the people, to-wit: a Senate and House of Representatives.

Sec. 2. Time of assembly. The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet biennially on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in February next after their election, unless a different day shall be provided by law; and when assembled, shall be denominated the General Assembly. Neither house shall proceed upon public business unless a majority of all the members are actually present.

Sec. 3. Number of senators. The Senate shall be composed of fifty Senators, biennially chosen by ballot.

Sec. 4. Regulations in relation to districting the State for Senators. The Senate Districts shall be so altered by the General Assembly, at the first session after the return of every enumeration by order of Congress, that each Senate District shall contain, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants, excluding aliens and Indians not taxed, and shall remain unaltered until the return of another remuneration, and shall at all times consist of contiguous territory; and no county shall be divided in the formation of a Senate District, unless such county shall be equitably entitled to two or more Senators.

Sec. 5. Regulations in relation to apportionment of representatives. The House of Representatives shall be composed of one hundred and twenty Representatives, biennially chosen by ballot, to be elected by the counties respectively, according to their population, and each county shall have at least one Representative in the House of Representatives, although it may not contain the requisite ratio of representation; this apportionment shall be made by the General Assembly at the respective times and periods when the districts for the Senate are hereinbefore directed to be laid off.

Sec. 6. Ratio of representation. In making the apportionment in the House of Representatives, the ratio of representation shall be ascertained by dividing the amount of the population of the State, exclusive of that comprehended within those counties which do not severally contain the one hundred and twentieth part of the population of the State, by the number of Representatives, less the number assigned to such counties; and in ascertaining the number of the population of the State, aliens and Indians not taxed shall not be included. To each county containing the said ratio and not twice the said ratio there shall be assigned one Representative; to each county containing twice but not three times the said ratio there shall be assigned two Representatives, and so on progressively, and then the remaining Representatives shall be assigned severally to the counties having the largest fractions.

Sec. 7. Qualifications for senators. Each member of the Senate shall not be less than twenty-five years of age, shall have resided in the State as a citizen two years, and shall have usually resided in the district for which he was chosen one year immediately preceding his election.

Sec. 8. Qualifications for representatives. Each member of the House of Representatives shall be a qualified elector of the State, and shall have resided in the county for which he is chosen for one year immediately preceding his election.

Sec. 9. Election of officers. In the election of all officers, whose appointment shall be conferred upon the General Assembly by the Constitution, the vote shall be viva voce.

Sec. 10. Powers in relation to divorce and alimony. The General Assembly shall have power to pass general laws regulating divorce and alimony, but shall not have power to grant a divorce or secure alimony in any individual case.

Sec. 11. Private laws in relation to names of persons, etc. The General Assembly shall not have power to pass any private law to alter the name of any person, or to legitimate any person not born in lawful wedlock, or to restore to the rights of citizenship any person convicted of an infamous crime, but shall have power to pass general laws regulating the same.

Sec. 12. Thirty days notice shall be given anterior to passage of private laws. The General Assembly shall not pass any private law, unless it shall be made to appear that thirty days notice of application to pass such a law shall have been given, under such direction and in such manner as shall be provided by law.

Sec. 13. Vacancies. If a vacancy shall occur in the General Assembly by death, resignation or otherwise, the said vacancy shall be filled immediately by the Governor appointing the person recommended by the executive committee of the county in which the deceased or resigned member was resident, being the executive committee of the political party with which the deceased or resigned member was affiliated at the time of his election.

Sec. 14. Revenue. No law shall be passed to raise money on the credit of the State, or to pledge the faith of the State, directly or indirectly, for the payment of any debt, or to impose any tax upon the people of the State, or allow the counties, cities or towns to do so, unless the bill for the purpose shall have been read three several times in each House of the General Assembly and passed three several readings, which readings shall have been on three different days, and agreed to by each House respectively, and unless the yeas and nays on the second and third readings of the bill shall have been entered on the journal.

Sec. 15. Entails. The General Assembly shall regulate entails in such a manner as to prevent perpetuities.

Sec. 16. Journals. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings which shall be printed and made public immediately after the adjournment of the General Assembly.

Sec. 17. Protest. Any member of either House may dissent from, and protest against, any act or resolve which he may think injurious to the public, or any individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journal.

In case of a vacancy existing for any cause in any of the offices created by this section the commissioners of the county may appoint to such office for the unexpired term.

Sec. 25. Vacancies. All vacancies occurring in the offices provided for by this Article of the Constitution shall be filled by the appointment of the Governor, unless otherwise provided for, and the appointees shall hold their places until the next regular election for members of the General Assembly that is held more than 30 days after such vacancy occurs, when elections shall be held to fill such offices. Provided, that when the unexpired term of any of the offices named in this Article of the Constitution in which such vacancy has occurred, and in which it is herein provided that the Governor shall fill the vacancy, expires on the first day of January succeeding the next General Election, the Governor shall appoint to fill said vacancy for the unexpired term of said office. If any person elected or appointed to any of said offices, shall neglect and fail to qualify, such offices shall be appointed to, held and filled as provided in case of vacancies occurring therein. All incumbents of said offices shall hold until their successors are qualified.

Sec. 26. Terms of office of first officers. The officers elected at the first election held under this Constitution shall hold their offices for the terms prescribed for them respectively, next ensuing after the next regular election for members of the General Assembly. But their terms shall begin upon the approval of this Constitution by the Congress of the United States.

Sec. 27. Jurisdiction of justices of the peace. The several justices of the peace shall have jurisdiction, under such regulations as the General Assembly shall prescribe, of civil actions, founded on contract, wherein the sum demanded shall not exceed two hundred dollars, and wherein the title to real estate shall not be in controversy, and of all criminal matters arising within their counties where the punishment cannot exceed a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days. No person who has been convicted, or who has confessed his guilt in open court upon indictment, of any crime the punishment of which now is, or may hereafter be, imprisonment in the State's Prison, shall be permitted to vote unless the said person shall be first restored to citizenship in the manner prescribed by law.

NORTH CAROLINA

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

(The American's Creed by William Tyler Page was adopted by an act of Congress, April 6, 1918.)

THE AMERICAN FLAG, ITS ORIGIN

In 1775, the Philadelphia Troop of Light Horse carried a standard with thirteen alternate blue and silver stripes in the upper left-hand corner. At Cambridge on January 2, 1776, Washington without authorization of the Continental Congress raised a flag consisting of thirteen alternate white and red stripes with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew in a blue field in the upper left-hand corner. It was called the "Union Flag," "Grand Union Flag," and the "Continental Flag," and was employed until displaced by the Stars and Stripes adopted by the Continental Congress.

The beautiful tradition that Betsy Ross, as early as June 1776, made a Stars and Stripes flag from a pencil sketch supplied by Washington but changed the points of the stars from six to five, has become a classic. Historians doubt its accuracy. Half a dozen localities claim to have been the place where the Stars and Stripes was first used. Within New York State such contention has been for Fort Ann on July 8, Fort Stanwix on August 3, Bennington on August 13, and Saratoga on September 19, 1777. The flag with thirteen stripes and thirteen stars, authorized on June 14, 1777, continued to be used as the national emblem until Congress passed the following act, which President Washington signed:

"That from and after May 1, 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white; and that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field."

This action was necessitated by the admission of the States of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union.

The flag of 1795 had the stars arranged in three rows of five each instead of in a circle, and served for 23 years.

With the admission of more new states, however, it became apparent that the 1795 flag would have to be further modified; hence in 1818 a law was passed by Congress providing:

"That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union have twenty stars, white in a blue field.

"That on the admission of every new state into the Union, one star be added to the union of the flag; and that such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July next succeeding such admission."

Since 1818 additional stars have been added until today there are 50 on the flag. No law has been passed to designate how the stars shall be arranged. At one time they formed a design of a larger star. Now they form five rows of six stars each and four rows of five stars each.

Betsy Ross, it is now said, lived at 233 Arch Street, Philadelphia, and not at 239. She made flags, but says Theodore D. Gottlieb, she never made the first Stars and Stripes. He adds: "The Department of State, the War and Navy departments, the Historical Sites Commission of Philadelphia and other official bodies repudiate the legend. The book and pamphlet material available is overwhelmingly against the legend.

"The story arose for the first time on March 14, 1870, when William J. Canby read a paper before the Pennsylvania Historical Society in which he states that in 1836, when his grandmother, Betsy Ross, was 84 years old and he was 11, she told him the story. He apparently thought little of it because nothing was done until 1857, when at the suggestion of his Aunt Clarissa, oldest daughter of Betsy, he wrote out the notes as he remembered the conversation.

"Nothing further was done until 1870 when he wrote his paper.

The Historical Society of Pennsylvania thought so little of the paper it neither catalogued nor kept a copy of it. Even George Canby, younger brother of William, disputed several points in the paper.

"The legend grew to strength from 1888 to 1893 when promoters secured an option on the so-called Flag House.

"Modern historical researchers are giving much thought to Francis Hopkinson of New Jersey as the possible designer and the Fillmore or Bennington flag as the first flag."

The Proper Display of the American Flag

Sec. 2. (a) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves in the open. However, the flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect.

(b) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

(c) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement.

(d) The flag should be displayed on all days when the weather permits, especially on New Year's Day, January 1; Inauguration Day, January 20; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Washington's Birthday, February 22; Army Day, April 6; Easter Sunday (variable); Mother's Day, second Sunday in May; Memorial Day (half staff until noon), May 30; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, first Monday in September; Constitution Day, September 17; Columbus Day, October 12; Navy Day, October 27; Armistice Day, November 11; Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November; Christmas Day, December 25; such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States; the birthdays of States (dates of admission); and on State holidays.

(e) The flag should be displayed daily, weather permitting, on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.

Sec. 3. That the flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be either on the marching right; that is, the flag's own right, or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i).

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or a boat. When the flag is displayed on a motorcar, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during the church services for the personnel of the Navy.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities, or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the right of the flag of the United States.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When the flag is displayed otherwise than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right; that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way; that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in the north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, if it is displayed in the chancel of a church, or on the speaker's platform in a public auditorium, the flag should occupy the position of honor and be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the congregation or audience. Any other flag so displayed in the chancel or on the platform should be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's left as he faces the congregation or audience. But when the flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium elsewhere than in the chancel or on the platform it shall be placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. By "half-staff" is meant hauling the flag to one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff. Crepe streamers may be affixed to spear heads or flagstaves in a parade only by order of the President of the United States.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground.

Sec. 4. That no disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America; the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags, and organizations or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the union down save as a signal of dire distress.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water, or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as drapery of any sort whatsoever, never festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white, and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of a platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used, or stored in such a manner as will permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture, or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying, or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard; or used as any portion of a costume or athletic uniform. Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

Sec. 5. That during the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons present should face the flag, stand at attention, and salute. Those present in uniform should render the right-hand salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with the right hand holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats merely stand at attention. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in the moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

Sec. 6. That when the national anthem is played and the flag is not displayed, all present should stand and face toward the music. Those in uniform should salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining this position until the last note. All others stand at attention, men removing the headdress. When the flag is displayed, the salute to the flag should be given.

Sec. 7. That the pledge of allegiance to the flag, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all," be rendered by standing with the right hand over the heart: extending the right hand, palm upward, toward the flag at the words "to the flag" and holding this position until the end, when the hand drops to the side. However, civilians will always show full respect to the flag when the pledge is given by merely standing at attention, men removing the headdress. Persons in uniform shall render the military salute.

Sec. 8. Any rule or custom pertaining to the display of the flag of the United States of America, set forth herein, may be altered, modified, or repealed, or additional rules with respect thereto may be prescribed, by the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, whenever he deems it to be appropriate or desirable; and any such alteration or additional rule shall be set forth in a proclamation.

The Pledge to the Flag

(Taught in many of the schools and repeated by pupils daily)

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America,
And to the Republic for which it stands,
One Nation under God, indivisible,
With liberty and justice for all."

The Pledge to the Flag, according to a report of the Historical Committee of the United States Flag Association (May 18, 1939), was written by Francis Bellamy (August 1892), a member of the editorial staff of The Youth's Companion, in Boston, Massachusetts. It was first repeated at the exercises in connection with the celebration of Columbus Day (October 12, 1892, Old Style). The idea of this national celebration on Columbus Day was largely that of James B. Upham, one of the junior proprietors of The Youth's Companion.

Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was the designer of the Stars and Stripes—not Betsy Ross of Philadelphia, who made flags. He also designed the first Great Seal of the United States, and a number of coins and several items of paper currency in the early days of the Republic.

Hopkinson, born in Philadelphia (September 21, 1737), and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was the first native American composer of a secular song, "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free." He was a lawyer and later a judge in New Jersey and then in Pennsylvania. He died in Philadelphia (May 9, 1791). His portrait, painted by himself, hangs in the rooms of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Philadelphia. He played the organ and harpsichord.

THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON

The Capitol building in Washington, D. C., is situated on a plateau 88 feet above the level of the Potomac River and covers an area of 153,112 square feet, or approximately three and one-half acres. Its length, from north to south, is 751 feet, four inches; its width, including approaches, is 350 feet; and its location is described as being in latitude 38°53'20.4" N. and longitude 70°00'35.7" W. from Greenwich. Its height above the base line on the east front to the top of the Statue of Freedom is 287 feet, five and one-half inches. The dome is built of iron, and the aggregate weight of material used in its construction is 8,909,200 pounds.

The Statue of Freedom surmounting the dome is of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds. It was modeled by Thomas Crawford, father of Francis Marion Crawford, the novelist, in Rome, and the plaster model shipped to this country. It was cast in bronze at the shops of Clark Mills, on the Bladensburg Road, near Washington. The cost of the casting and the expenses in connection were $20,796.82, and the sculptor was paid $3,000 for the plaster model. It was erected and placed in its present position December 2, 1863.

The grounds have had an area of 58.8 acres, at one time a part of Cern Abby Manor, and at an early date were occupied by a subtribe of the Algonquin Indians known as the Powhatans, whose council house was then located at the foot of the hill. By subsequent purchase of ground at the North of the Capitol and at the west of the new House Office building the area of the grounds has been increased to 139½ acres.

The Rotunda is 97 feet 6 inches in diameter, and its height from the floor to the top of the canopy is 180 feet, 3 inches.

The Senate Chamber is 113 feet, 3 inches, in length by 80 feet, 3 inches, in width and 36 feet in height. The galleries will accommodate 682 persons.

The Representatives' Hall is 139 feet in length by 93 feet in width and 36 feet in height.

The room, until 1935 the meeting place of the Supreme Court, was, until 1859, occupied as the Senate Chamber. Previous to that time the court occupied the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

The Capitol has a floor area of 14 acres, and 430 rooms are devoted to office, committee, and storage purposes. There are 14,518 square feet of skylights, 679 windows, and 550 doorways.

The dome receives light through 108 windows, and from the architect's office to the dome there are 365 steps, one for each day of the year.

The southeast cornerstone of the original building was laid September 18, 1793, by President Washington, with Masonic ceremonies. It is constructed of sandstone from quarries on Aquia Creek, Va. The original designs were prepared by Dr. William Thornton, and the work was done under the direction of Stephen H. Hallet, James Hoban, George Hadfield, and B. H. Latrobe, architects.

The north wing was finished in 1800 and the south wing in 1811. A wooden passageway connected them. On August 24, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by fire, set by the British. The damage to the building was immediately repaired.

In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bullfinch. The original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations, and repairs, up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

The cornerstone of the extensions was laid on the Fourth of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator. This work was prosecuted under the architectural direction of Thomas U. Walter until 1865, when he resigned, and it was completed under the supervision of Edward Clark. The material used in the walls is white marble from the quarries of Lee, Massachusetts, and that in the columns from the quarries from Cokeysville, Maryland. The House extension was first occupied for legislative purposes December 16, 1857, and the Senate January 4, 1859.

The House office building was begun in 1905 and occupied on January 10, 1908; later a story on top was added. The Senate office building was started in 1906 and occupied on March 5, 1909. The House building cost, with site, $4,860,155; the Senate structure, $5,019,251.

Among the paintings in the Capitol are:

In Rotunda: Signing of the Declaration of Independence, Surrender of General Burgoyne, Surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, Va., George Washington Resigning His Commission as Commander in Chief of the Army, all by John Trumbull.

Baptism of Pocahontas, by John G. Chapman; Landing of Columbus, by John Vanderlyn; Discovery of the Mississippi River by DeSoto, by William H. Powell; Embarkation of the Pilgrims, by Robert W. Weir.

In House Wing: Westward the Course of Empire Takes Its Way, by Emanuel Leutze; First Reading of the Emancipation Proclamation, by Francis Bicknell Carpenter.

In Senate Wing: Battle of Lake Erie, by William H. Powell; Battle of Chapultepec, by James Walker.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

(Unanimously Adopted in Congress, July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia)

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitles them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That, to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; That, whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundations on such principles, and organizing its powers in such forms, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of Our Legislature.

He has affected to render the Military independent of, and superior to, the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond Seas, to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:

For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally, the Forms of our Governments:

For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-Citizens, taken captive on the high Seas, to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms; Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which inevitably interrupt our connections with correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind — Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress Assembled; appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name and by authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be free and independent States; that they are Absolved from All Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

PREAMBLE

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1—All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

SEC. 2—1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

2. No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

3. Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose 3; Massachusetts, 8; Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, 1; Connecticut, 5; New York, 6; New Jersey, 1; Pennsylvania, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 6; Virginia, 10; North Carolina, 5; South Carolina, 5; and Georgia, 3.*

1. When vacancies happen in the representation from any State the Executive Authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

5. The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SEC. 3 1. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.†

2. Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year; and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year, and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.‡

3. No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

4. The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

5. The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

6. The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

7. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

*See Article XIV, Amendments.

†See Article XVII, Amendments.

SEC. 4—1. The times, places, and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof, but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SEC. 5—1. Each House shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each House may provide.

2. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

3. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

4. Neither House, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6—1. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place.

2. No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office.

SEC. 7—1. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

2. Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approves, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent together with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that House, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

3. Every order, resolution, or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The Congress shall have power:

1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

2. To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

3. To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes;

4. To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

5. To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

6. To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coins of the United States;

7. To establish postoffices and postroads;

8. To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing, for limited times, to authors and inventors, the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

9. To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

10. To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offenses against the law of nations;

11. To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

12. To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

13. To provide and maintain a navy;

14. To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

15. To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions;

16. To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

17. To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may by cession of particular States and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of Government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the Legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock-yards, and other useful buildings;—and

18. To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof.

Sec. 9—1. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

2. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

3. No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

The original proposal of the ten amendments was preceded by this preamble and resolution:

“The conventions of a number of the States having, at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added, and as extending the ground of public confidence in the Government will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution:

“RESOLVED, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States, as amendments to the Constitution of the United States; all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of the said Legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the said Constitution, namely”:

PART II

CENSUS

POPULATION OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

Eighteenth Census of the United States: 1960

The population of North Carolina's urban places continued to grow faster than that of the rural areas between 1950 and 1960, according to the eighteenth decennial census, issued by Robert W. Burgess, Director of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Final figures show that the urban population increased from 1,368,101 in 1950 to 1,801,921 in 1960, or 31.6 per cent, while the rural population increased from 2,693,828 in 1950 to 2,754,234 in 1960 or an increase of only 2.2 per cent. The final count of the Eighteenth Census for the State on April 1, 1960, was 4,556,155 compared to 4,061,929 in 1950, or an increase of 12.2 per cent. Urban residents accounted for 39.5 per cent of the State's population in 1960 as compared with 33.7 per cent in 1950. Rural areas in 1960 accounted for 60.5 per cent of the total population. The Census Bureau considers as urban areas the incorporated places of 2,500 or more, or unincorporated places of 2,500 or more located outside urbanized areas. The remaining territory is classified as rural.

There were 35 incorporated places of 10,000 or more in 1960. Five of these (Chapel Hill, Jacksonville, Lenoir, Lumberton and Roanoke Rapids) reached that size since 1950. Charlotte remains the State's largest city with a population of 201,564, followed in order by Greensboro with 119,574 and Winston-Salem with 111,135.

According to final figures of the 1960 census 63 of the counties gained in population. Onslow County showed the greatest gain with an increase of 96.7 per cent. Cumberland County placed second with an increase of 54.6 per cent while Mecklenburg was third with a 38.1 per cent gain.

The first census of North Carolina was taken in 1790, returning a population of 393,751. The population has shown an increase at every census since that time. STATE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM FOR 1960

The Democrats of North Carolina, duly assembled in convention in Raleigh on May 19, 1960, endorse the record of the Party in North Carolina and take pride in the accomplishments of the Party in the fields of education, health, welfare, agriculture, roads, and the many other essential phases of North Carolina's progressive and enlightened State and local government. The various departments of State government, under the wise direction of dedicated members of the Democratic party, are rendering notable service to North Carolina citizens and local governmental services of similar quality are being directed by loyal members of the Party with the result that government in North Carolina on all levels is acknowledged nationally for its integrity, progressiveness, and responsiveness to the needs of the people. We dedicate our Party to the continuation and the improvement of this proud record.

The Democrats of North Carolina offer the following as the Platform of the Democratic Party of North Carolina for 1960-1961:

THE EXECUTIVE, JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE BRANCHES OF NORTH CAROLINA GOVERNMENT

Believing in the wisdom of separation of the executive, judicial, and legislative functions, the Democratic Party in North Carolina stands steadfast in its support of this principle.

Our Party, entrusted for more than half a century with the governorship of North Carolina, takes tremendous pride in the record of our Democratic governors, and in this Convention, the Party endorses the dedicated, progressive, and vigorous leadership of Governor Luther H. Hodges. Under his guidance, the Executive Department has given leadership to our people and successfully advocated many major governmental improvements including: an outstanding and highly productive industrial development program for the entire State, new emphasis on agricultural diversification, food processing and more complete utilization of forest products, the creation of the Business Development Corporation, the establishment of the Research Triangle, revision of the tax laws, a State minimum wage, new judicial districting and a study of the judicial system, creation of the Board of Higher Education, reorganization of the State Highway Commission, authorization of a new legislative building, separation of the State Prison Department from the State Highway Commission, establishment of the Department of Administration, establishment of the Department of Water Resources, development of the community college program, a program to stop erosion on the Outer Banks, and increased appropriations for public schools, higher education and mental institutions, including expansion of physical facilities. It is an administration in the true tradition of democracy and of the Democratic Party in North Carolina.

Our North Carolina Judiciary, preponderantly of the Democratic Party, has a proud and distinguished record of impartial and wise administration of the judicial function. The protection of the rights of the individual is one of the basic foundations of democratic government, and through an enlightened judiciary and fair and impartial law enforcement agencies, our citizens' rights are best guaranteed. The Democratic Party of North Carolina reiterates its support of a free and independent judiciary, and in the continuation of the election, by popular vote, of the judges of our Superior and Supreme Courts. We further pledge the Party to continuous study of the judiciary system in North Carolina to the end that it may be revised to serve its function to the greatest advantage of our citizens.

The great majority of the members of the North Carolina General Assembly are members of the Democratic Party. In a legislative body uniquely powerful because of the absence of a constitutionally granted veto power to the Chief Executive, they have legislated carefully and wisely for the citizens of our State. They have had the courage and the foresight to enact laws which have enhanced the well being of North Carolinians, strengthened and kept our government modern and insured North Carolina's leadership among the states. The Democratic Party is proud of the legislative record of its members and pledges the efforts of Democratic legislators in the future for the best interest of all the citizens of North Carolina.

EDUCATION

Being persuaded that the continued growth and prosperity of our State and very security of our Nation require that our young people be provided with the best education our State can afford, and reaffirming our philosophy that it is the duty of the State to provide each child opportunity for an education sufficient to equip him for enlightened, productive and remunerative citizenship, we pledge the support of our Party to a constantly improving and steadily expanding program of public education, equipped to elevate the living standards and enrich the general learning of our youth, to maintaining vocational facilities, and special facilities and programs for the exceptionally talented, the handicapped and the slow learners and to regular re-examination of our teaching methods, equipment and personnel to assure that professional qualifications and remuneration of school personnel are of a standard equal to the demands of our scientific and technological age.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Believing that it is the duty of our State to provide for every qualified youth in the State opportunity for higher education, our Party pledges its continued support of the various State institutions of higher learning and the development of community college program to the end that they, together with private educational institutions of higher learning, which are making such a tremendous contribution in this field, may fulfill our ultimate aim of universal higher education for our qualified youth.

HEALTH

The Democratic Party pledges itself to support legislation and to develop programs within the means of the State which will prevent and alleviate mental and physical disease.

In this connection, we advocate:

- (1) The continued development of a strong and progressive public health service;
- (2) The maintenance of adequate hospital facilities and personnel for the treatment of the mentally ill and retarded;
- (3) The continuation of close cooperation between State, local and Federal agencies working towards construction of more adequate hospitals for treatment of physical suffering, and
- (4) The encouragement of private charitable institutions having as their object the treatment of diseases of the mind and body.

AGRICULTURE

We recognize agriculture as the industry most basic to human survival. We deplore the financial condition of our farmers as a result of seven years of Republican administration and mis-administration.

We realize the urgent need of a national farm program designed to assure fair and adequate returns to our farmers for their labor and investment. We advocate enabling legislation for keeping production in line with demand for all the variety of farm commodities produced in this Nation. America's capacity for agricultural production and its bountiful stores of food and fiber represent our most formidable weapon of defense against foreign aggression and are vital to the preservation of our domestic tranquility and the welfare of all our people. Therefore, we endorse legislation designed to maintain adequate stockpiles of agricultural commodities to meet emergencies in peace or war; we urge that such legislation be so framed and administered that it will be clearly understood by the public as necessary for our national security and not erroneously regarded as a farm subsidy.

We also advocate:

- (1) Continuing emphasis on agricultural research at both State and National levels with a view to future improvements of production and marketing efficiency.
- (2) Increased efforts in the development of new uses and expanding markets for farm commodities both at home and abroad, and the promotion of better marketing practices and facilities.
- (3) Support of adequate agricultural credit facilities to make it possible for farmers to buy their own farms, to invest in new facilities and equipment when these are indicated to meet a changing of pattern of operation and to finance their production at reasonable rates of interest.
- (4) Continuation of the Rural Electrification Administration and the Rural Telephone Program under vigorous, progressive policies which resulted in their success under Democratic administrations.

ROADS

North Carolina, under the leadership of the Democratic Party, has earned a nationwide reputation as "the good roads State," and believing that a system of good roads is essential to the orderly development and progress of every segment of our economy, the Party will preserve its reputation by supplying the means and changes necessary to keep North Carolina progressive in this field of public service.

We re-emphasize the fairness and the necessity of acquainting the people as far ahead as possible with the location of highways, and maintaining a uniform procedure for the acquisition of highway right-of-way.

The Democratic Party will continue its efforts to provide adequate highway facilities for all the people in every section of North Carolina.

We recognize the State's primary responsibility for protection of life and property on the highways of our State. To meet this responsibility, we pledge continued support to the program which has made North Carolina recognized as the Nation's leader in the field of highway safety and traffic law enforcement.

PRISON, PAROLE AND PROBATION

The Democratic Party endorses continuous improvement of prison administration, including rehabilitation and education programs designed to return prisoners to society as self-supporting, law-abiding citizens and the expanded enlightened use of parole and probation in dealing with those citizens convicted of crimes.

STATE AND LOCAL EMPLOYEES

The Democratic Party recognizes that loyal, capable State and local governmental employees guarantee the principles and practices of good government.

The Democratic Party in North Carolina believes that the staffing of government functions to assure superior service to the citizens of North Carolina should be based upon standards of employment that assure: quality employees, appointments and promotions based on merit, salaries and conditions of employment comparable to those in business and industry, and fair and uniform treatment of employees.

The Party pledges its support of programs on the State and local governmental levels which will assure these principles.

PUBLIC WELFARE

The Democratic Party of North Carolina has a history of deep concern for the less fortunate of the State's citizens and recognizes the State's obligation to provide welfare services to its citizens who, because of age, handicaps, infirmity, financial needs or otherwise are unable to provide for their essential requirements. We pledge ourselves to support the welfare programs which will provide for these needs and to develop prevention, protection, and rehabilitation programs which will enable these citizens insofar as possible to become self-supporting.

LABOR

We pledge our support of laws which will guarantee employees the right to work and employers the right to conduct their business as citizens in a free and democratic society.

We pledge our support to a program of humane labor laws, safe and healthful working conditions, and fair compensation for the industrial workers who contribute so much to the prosperity of the State. No lasting progress can come to North Carolina unless it embraces the advancement and welfare of those who, by their labor and skill, contribute substantially to our economy.

CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT

For a healthy economy and so that we may raise our per capita income and produce the revenue for the State services our people need, it is essential that we do pledge our Party to continue to develop our natural resources with particular emphasis being placed on forestry, commercial fishing, minerals and water, and encourage advertising of state parks, recreational areas, and other points of interest to people from within and out of the State.

We support programs to assure continued industrial development including encouragement of the more than 200 area and local development organizations, which in cooperation with the Division of Commerce and Industry of the Department of Conservation and Development and other State agencies and institutions have done so much to promote the growth of North Carolina. Particular emphasis should be given to the establishment and development of industries in North Carolina which will process and package products of North Carolina agriculture.

UTILITIES

The Democratic Party recognizes that the services rendered by public and private utilities are an indispensable adjunct to the progress of North Carolina.

We endorse utility regulation which will insure sound, orderly growth and provide ample services for the people in every section of North Carolina.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The Democratic Party of North Carolina believes in the fair and impartial enforcement of the law as it applies to all people within the State. The Party recognizes law enforcement as essentially the duty of local government. The Party pledges itself to continue to support and develop adequate law enforcement agencies on levels of government.

TAXATION

The Democratic Party endorses a tax structure which equitably distributes the costs of providing governmental services in such a manner as to encourage economic growth without tax concessions to segments of the economy. Administration of tax laws should be just and fair but firm and without special favor.

RELATION OF THE RACES

The Democratic Party believes in the preservation of the rights and liberties of the citizens of North Carolina as guaranteed to them by their Constitution and of the citizens of all the States under the Constitution of the United States. We believe in the principle of separation of the races in our schools and all institutions involving personal and social relations, and the preservation of our right to regulate public health, morals, marriage, education, peace, good order, domestic tranquility and the general welfare of the citizens of North Carolina.

RE-APPORTIONMENT

We pledge our Senators and Representatives of the 1961 General Assembly to take some positive action on the matter of re-apportionment in accordance with the population figures shown by the 1960 census.

FISCAL AFFAIRS

The State's fiscal policies and management under Democratic administrations have consistently been a source of pride to the citizens of our State. In this area we have moved conservatively, but never hesitantly or fearfully. We have been neither radical nor reactionary. Our fiscal planning and administrative integrity has given North Carolina a credit rating, second to none. We have always operated on a balanced budget, and under our Party's leadership, we pledge that the State's financial affairs will continue to be conducted in a business-like fashion; thus, providing the material resources for continued progressive service to the people of our State.

CONGRESS

The Democratic delegation has made an enviable record in Congress. They have reflected great credit on our State, and their positions of importance both in the House and Senate indicate the vast influence they exert in the affairs of the nation. During the period of Republican administration, they have stood steadfast when the welfare of the people was threatened. They have kept the Nation's interest paramount at all times. They have shown themselves men of integrity and devotion to the basic principles of democracy and have played a dynamic part in fostering this principle nationally. The Democratic Party of North Carolina is proud of its Democratic delegation in Congress and commends them for their magnificent record.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Confused Leadership

North Carolinians, used to alert, wise, and efficient State government under 60 years of Democratic rule, have been doubly shocked and dismayed by the Republican Reign of Confusion in the national government. Drift and debility have been the marks of an administration during times of great national and international peril. The White House, supposedly the nerve center of national concern, has become the burying ground of ideas and the bastion of unconcern. Time and again, leadership has been uninformed, unready in crisis, and inept in action. While national problems mount and international questions remain unanswered, the people are told that "Papa Knows Best" and that dynamic apathy is the best way to surmount the problems of the day.

Divided Government

Contrasted to this determined indifference is the patriotism of Democratic Congressional leadership, which has shouldered the burden of major responsibility in a period of divided government. It has fashioned a record which has broadened the horizons of Americans at home and America abroad. It has kept the pledge of a party which has made responsibility a cardinal political virtue, and never flinched at doing the things necessary for the nation's well being domestically and its strength internationally. It has done this under a virulent partisan attack which has not once given it credit for its accomplishments, nor granted it sincerity in its purpose. It has met indifference with action and irresponsibility with efficient concern.

Honesty in Government

A Republican administration which came to office sworn to be "as clean as a hound's tooth" has turned out to be a happy hunting ground of cynical imprudence in high places. This unfeeling ineptitude has been demonstrated even in The White House, and officials whose indiscretions have been bared to the public have been allowed to resign with letters of commendation from the leader of the Great Crusade.

Regulatory agencies, set up under Democratic administrations which put a premium on honesty in government and business, have become the dumping ground for men blind to the best interests of the public they are sworn to protect and eager to bend to the winds of narrow selfish interests. A nation has seen rigged regulation and political payola in the very agencies charged with asserting the rights of the public in vast commercial enterprises which touch the lives of all the people.

While the Great Crusader has peered down the green fairways of indifference, the government has become a breeding place of genteel rascality and cynical disregard for the interests of the many for the benefit of the few.

Agriculture

In no other field has the Republican record been as black as in that of agriculture. The Benson Plan has called for the plowing under of the country's small farmers. The Benson Department of Agriculture is the most costly agency of non-military government, yet the incomes of the nation's farmers—including those of North Carolina—have plunged to lows not seen since the days of the last Republican Depression. Enlightened programs designed to make rural living healthier and happier have been crippled, while the costs of storing a vast wealth of farm production have soared to a million-dollar-a-day rate. Export programs have lain inoperative while the world pleads for food and America's unmatched farm productive capacity pours out commodities which go into storage.

Costs of Government

North Carolinians and millions of other Americans groan under a Federal tax burden which has worsened during years of Republican rule. In seven years, we have been called on to pay $6.6 billion in additional interest charges on a mounting national debt. This huge outlay, product of unwise Republican policies, could have paid for many needed government programs, or left in the private economy could have added strength to labor, business, and agriculture. This year alone taxpayers will fork over $9.3 billion for interest on the largest national debt in the history of our country.

While calling for increasing outlays of public funds, the administration has made the burden worse by inefficiency and lack of planning in public spending. Under the command of a great General, the armed services have been forced into lags in missiles and lags in space. This policy lag and lack of planning has confused the people, wasted the best use of public funds, and produced serious questions about our national strength.

Despite a staggering price tag in seven years, we see ourselves in danger of slipping into the position of second best in the world, faced with enormous unmet needs at home.

Interest Rates

North Carolina has especially felt the burden of the Republican administration's tight money policies. Bonds for the construction of schools have been saddled with spiraling interest costs, striking at the heart of North Carolina's local initiative in the education field. The State's growing cities, faced with the necessity of providing expanded services for their people, have also found it harder to market improvement bonds and more costly to retire them.

This mismanagement of the government's fiscal and monetary role has increased the worker's costs on his home, the farmer's costs on his tools, the family's costs of living. Far from combatting inflation, it has produced the biggest average inflation ever in relative peacetime.

The tight money policies of the Republican administration have driven up the costs of doing business and made profitable business more difficult. The same administration which boasts of "fiscal responsibility" has driven the costs of living up 10.6 per cent. These rising costs and inflated interest rates have fallen heaviest on the small businessman and the farmer, the backbone of North Carolina's economy. The results of this unbusinesslike government policy have caused business failures at a record rate. When the Republican administration came into power, the business failure rate was 29 per 10,000. The rate of failure has increased to 56 per 10,000 during the so-called "Eisenhower Prosperity."

We, the Democrats of North Carolina, deplore the trend in National affairs under the Republicans and pledge ourselves to setting our National house in order under the administration of a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress.

CONCLUSION

We pledge ourselves to continue the Democratic Party as a living, dynamic force dedicated to the promotion and protection of the freedom and dignity of the individual and the welfare of all the people.

We, the Democrats of North Carolina, express our gratitude to those generations of North Carolinians before us who entrusted to our Party their faith and their fortune and to those North Carolinians who now entrust to it the administration of the Government of this great State. We reassert our belief in the importance of the individual, in his right to know, in his right to be educated, in his right to worship as he pleases, in his right to pursue the truth, and in his right to speak his mind freely on all matters. This sacred heritage of free thought and free speech and independent action in all the areas of life has been fostered by the Democratic Party since the days of its founding by Thomas Jefferson and to its preservation our Party is firmly committed.

We commend the record of the Democratic Party to all forward thinking people. It stands always on the side of justice for the many and never on the side of privilege for the few. To it political power is not only a privilege, but also a responsibility. Its devotion to the fundamental principles of Democracy has resulted in its unsurpassed record in the Nation and the State as the Party of the people. In the pursuit of its principles and ideals lies the hope of the future.

The Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, as early as practicable after his election, shall appoint his advisory or campaign committee, consisting of not less than six nor more than twenty-four, with equal representation as to men and women, and a secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Sec. 4. The congressional Democratic Executive Committee for each congressional district in the State shall consist of two members from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention as provided by Section 29 hereof; provided, however, that in any congressional district embracing less than five counties, the committee shall consist of three members from each county in the district.

Sec. 5. The Judicial Democratic Executive Committee for each judicial district in the State shall consist of two members from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention as provided by Section 29 hereof; provided, however that in any judicial district embracing less than five counties, the committee shall consist of three members from each county in the district.

Sec. 5-A. The Solicitorial Democratic Executive Committee for each solicitorial district in the State shall consist of two members from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention as provided by Section 29 hereof; provided, however, that in any solicitorial district embracing less than five counties, the committee shall consist of three members from each county in the district.

Sec. 6. The State Senatorial Executive Committee for each senatorial district in the State which comprises more than one county shall consist of one member from each county in said district, who shall be elected at the preliminary meetings of delegates from the congressional districts held on the morning of the State Convention as provided by Section 29 hereof. In districts composed of only one county, the County Democratic Executive Committee of said county shall have jurisdiction as in the matter of county candidates.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, as soon as practicable after the State Convention, to designate one member as chairman and one member as secretary of each of the executive committees provided for in each of the foregoing four sections. The State Chairman shall notify the members so selected of their appointment, and in case any member shall fail or decline to accept such appointment, he shall appoint some other member in his stead.

Sec. 8. All Democratic Executive Committees shall meet at such times and places as the chairman of the respective committees may appoint and designate in the call. If for any reason there should occur a vacancy in the chairmanship of any executive committee, or if such chairman should be incapacitated or should fail or refuse to act, the secretary shall call a meeting of said executive committee for the purpose of electing a successor to the said chairman. If no meeting shall be called within five days after such vacancy occurs, then any other officer of said executive committee, or any three members thereof, may call a meeting to fill said vacancy; provided, however, if such vacancy shall be in a state senatorial executive committee, in that event, any member thereof after said vacancy shall have existed for five days, may call a meeting to fill such vacancy.

At meetings called and held by the State, Congressional, Judicial, Solicitorial, and State Senatorial Democratic Executive Committees, a majority of the membership of the committees, shall constitute a quorum. Members may be represented in person or by proxy.

Sec. 9. The State Democratic Executive Committee shall have the power to fill all vacancies occurring in said committee; vacancies occurring in congressional, judicial, and senatorial committees shall be filled by the executive committee of the county in which such vacancies occur; precinct committees shall fill all vacancies occurring in their respective committee.

Sec. 10. All officers of the State Executive Committee and the National Committeeman and the National Committeewoman from the State, and the President, National Committeeman, and National Committeewoman of the Young Democratic Clubs of the State shall be ex-officio members of the Committee with the power to vote.

Sec. 11. All executive committees shall have the power to appoint subcommittees or special committees for such purposes and with such powers, in their respective jurisdictions, as may be deemed necessary or desirable.

Sec. 12. In each election year the Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee shall convene said Committee in the City of Raleigh on or before the 10th day of March, and at said meeting the following business shall be transacted:

(a) The time and place of holding the State Convention shall be determined and duly published.

(b) A common day shall be fixed, on which all precinct meetings shall be held for the election of delegates to the county conventions.

(c) A common day shall be fixed for the holding of a county convention in each county in the State for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention.

(d) Elect one member from each Congressional District to the Resolutions and Platform Committee. It shall be the duty of the Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee to designate one member of said Committee as Chairman and one member as Secretary. The Committee upon call of the Chairman shall organize and prepare the Party's proposed platform and consider all proposed resolutions addressed to the Democratic Convention. (This sub-section shall not become effective until July 1, 1958.)

Sec. 13. Immediately after the adjournment of the aforesaid meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee, it shall be the duty of the chairman to publish the proceedings of the same, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of the committee to notify, in writing, the several chairmen of the County Democratic Executive Committees in the State of the respective dates so fixed for the holding of precinct meetings and county conventions. Directly after receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of each chairman of a County Democratic Executive Committee in the State to fix the hour and places for holding the precinct meetings in his county, the hour and place for holding the meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee required by the provisions of Section 20 to be held on the day of the county convention; and thereupon the said chairman shall issue a call for the precinct meetings, the county convention, and the meetings of the County Democratic Executive Committee. The call shall be in writing and, at least ten days before the day set for the precinct meetings, it shall be posted at the courthouse door of the county and copies thereof shall be sent to the chairmen of all precinct committees in the county; a copy of the call also shall be sent as a news item to each newspaper published in the county.

County and Precinct Organization

Sec. 14. The unit of county organization shall be the voting precinct. In each precinct there shall be an executive committee consisting of five active Democrats, at least two of whom shall be women, who shall be elected by the Democratic voters at the precinct meeting called by the chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee as provided in this plan of organization. The precinct committee so elected shall elect from its membership a chairman and a vice chairman, one of whom shall be a woman.

Sec. 15. The precinct meetings shall be presided over by the chairman of the precinct committee, but in his absence, the vice chairman of the committee shall preside, and in the absence of both the chairman and the vice chairman, any member of the committee may preside.

Sec. 16. At the said precinct meeting, the Democratic voters in attendance shall elect delegates and alternates to represent the precinct in the county convention; and said delegates or alternates, or such of them as shall attend the county convention, shall be entitled to vote the full democratic strength of their precinct upon all questions, nominations, or elections which may come before the county convention. The chairman, or presiding officer, and the secretary of the precinct meeting shall certify to the county convention the names of the delegates and alternates selected at the meeting.

Sec. 17. Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every 25 Democratic votes, and one vote for fractions over 12 Democratic votes cast by the precinct for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election: provided that every precinct shall be entitled to cast at least one vote in the county convention, and each precinct may appoint as many delegates to said convention as it may see fit, not exceeding three delegates and three alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the county convention.

Sec. 18. At every precinct meeting, if requested, a vote shall be taken on the different questions, nominations, and elections anticipated to come before the county convention, and in that event, the chairman or presiding officer and the secretary of the precinct meeting shall certify to the county convention the vote so cast, and the relative vote as fixed in the precinct meeting shall not be changed in the county convention, except by two-thirds vote of the entire unit of delegates desiring to change its vote.

Sec. 19. In case there shall be a failure to hold a precinct meeting in pursuance of the call of the chairman of the county democratic executive committee, or if at any meeting there shall be a failure to elect delegates to the county convention, in either event, the precinct democratic executive committee shall appoint the delegates and alternates from the Democratic voters of the precinct.

Sec. 20. The chairman of the several precinct committees and the President of a duly organized County Young Democratic Club within that county shall compose the County Democratic Executive Committee, which shall meet on the same day as the county convention first held in each election year, the meeting to be held either before or after the convention at an hour and place to be designated in the call issued in pursuance of Section 13 hereof. At said meeting a chairman of said county executive committee shall be elected. Immediately after the election of the chairman, the committee shall elect one or more, but not exceeding three, vice chairmen, and also a secretary. If more than one vice chairman shall be elected the order of their succession shall be designated by title, e.g., first vice chairman, second vice chairman, third vice chairman. Either the chairman or the first vice chairman shall be a woman. The chairman, vice chairman or vice chairmen, or secretary need not be members of the County Democratic Executive Committee, but all of said officers shall be ex-officio members of the committee, with the power to vote, however, at any organizational meeting of said County Democratic Executive Committee said ex-officio members shall not have the power to vote. If for any reason there should occur any vacancy in the chairmanship of a county executive committee, by death, resignation, or removal, or if such chairman should be incapacitated or should fail or refuse to act, then the vice chairman or vice chairmen, in their order of succession, and thereafter the secretary, shall, in such order of succession, be vested with the full authority and power of the chairman until such time as said county executive committee has met and duly elected a successor to such chairman. A majority of said precinct chairmen, or in the absence of the chairman of any precinct the vice chairman of such precinct, or in the absence of the chairman and vice chairman, in the person of some active Democrat of the precinct in which such absent chairman and vice chairman reside, by proxy of the chairman, shall constitute a quorum. The county executive committee may appoint a central committee of five who shall act in its stead when the county executive committee is not in session.

Provided, however, that in any non-election year subsequent to October 1 of such year or in any election year prior to March 1 of such year, the Chairman of any County Democratic Executive Committee may issue a call for a meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee of such county to consider the transaction of business as hereinafter set out. The call shall be in writing, shall state the time, place and purpose of the meeting. The meeting must be held within the county.

At the meeting, a quorum being present, the Committee by a majority of those present and voting may adopt a resolution fixing a day for the holding of precinct meetings throughout the county for the purpose of electing an Executive Committee for each precinct, and the time and places for holding such meetings; fixing the day, the time and the place for a meeting of the newly elected Democratic Executive Committee for the purpose of electing a Chairman and the other officers, the election of which is provided for in Section 20 of the Plan of Organization.

Notice of the day, the time and the places of such precinct meetings shall be given by the Chairman. The notice shall be in writing and at least ten days before the day set for the precinct meetings. The notice shall be posted at the courthouse door of the county and copies shall be mailed to the Chairman of all precinct committees of the county. A copy of the call shall also be sent as a news item to each newspaper published in the county. The notice shall contain a notice of the purpose, the date and the time and place for the meeting of the newly elected Democratic Executive Committee of the county held for the purpose of electing a Chairman and the other officers, the election of which is provided for in Section 20 of the Plan of Organization.

The term of office of each person elected at the several precinct meetings and at the meeting held by the County Democratic Executive Committee as provided for shall begin as soon as such person is elected and shall be for a period of two years, or until his or her successor is elected.

All the provisions of the Plan of Organization not in conflict herewith shall remain in full force and effect, and the procedure at all meetings held hereunder shall be as set out in the Plan of Organization.

The precinct meetings herein provided for shall not be held later than two weeks before the common day fixed for the holding of precinct meetings throughout the state, and the meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee herein provided for shall not be held later than two weeks before the common day fixed for the holding of county conventions throughout the state as per the Plan of Organization.

Sec. 21. In case there shall be a failure to elect any precinct executive committee prior to the day of the county convention, the County Democratic Executive Committee at its meeting held on the day of the said convention shall appoint the committee for such precinct.

Sec. 22. The county executive committee shall have power to make any rules with regard to holding precinct meetings which it may deem proper, not inconsistent with the rules prescribed in this plan; it shall be the duty of said committee to prepare and furnish all forms and blanks needed in making the returns from said precinct meetings, and any reported challenges and appeals therefrom; and it shall have the power to raise the funds necessary to pay for expenses thereof.

Sec. 23. All county conventions shall be called to order by the chairman of the executive committee of such county, and in his absence, by the vice chairman or by one of the vice chairmen in the order of succession set out in Section 20 hereof, and in his or their absence, by any member of the county executive committee who may be present at the convention, and in case none of the foregoing persons shall be present, then by any delegate to the convention, and he shall preside until a permanent chairman is elected by the convention.

Sec. 24. The chairman shall provide the convention with a sufficient number of secretaries or ready accountants, who shall reduce the votes to decimals and tabulate the same, disregarding all fractions after second or hundredth column.

Sec. 25. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the convention from making nomination by viva voce or acclamation where a vote by township or precinct is not demanded by any Democratic elector present.

Sec. 26. The County Democratic Executive Committee shall have the power to make such other rules and regulations for the holding of county conventions not inconsistent herewith, as may be deemed necessary or expedient.

Sec. 27. Any chairman of a county executive committee who announces his candidacy for an elective office in the primary shall resign immediately as such chairman and the vacancy shall be filled as heretofore provided; but any chairman who shall so resign may be reelected to such chairmanship if and when a vacancy occurs after the primary.

State Convention Rules

Sec. 28. The state convention shall be composed of delegates appointed by the several county conventions. Each county in the State shall be entitled to elect to the State Convention one delegate and one alternate for every 150 Democratic votes and one delegate and one alternate for fractions over 75 Democratic votes cast therein for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

Sec. 29. A preliminary meeting of the delegates shall be held by each congressional district on the morning of the State Convention, at rooms to be designated by the State Executive Committee, for the purpose of selecting the following committees and officers of the convention:

One member of the committee on Resolutions and Platform, (on and after July 1, 1958, this section inapplicable.)

1. One member of the committee on Permanent Organization, Rules and Order of Business, which committee will nominate a permanent president and secretary of the convention.

2. One vice president of the convention.

3. One district assistant secretary.

4. One member of the committee on Credentials and Appeals.

5. Nine men and nine women as members of the State Democratic Executive Committee, with at least one member being selected from each county.

6. Two members from each county for the Congressional, Judicial, and Solicitorial District Democratic Executive Committees; provided, however, in districts embracing less than five counties, three members of each said committee shall be elected from each county in said district.

7. One member for each county of the State Senatorial Executive Committee where the district embraces more than one county.

8. In each Presidential election year the number of delegates and alternates allotted by the National Committee to each Congressional District.

9. In each Presidential Election Year one Presidential Elector for each Congressional District.

Sec. 29A. (a) The State Convention shall elect the delegates to the National Convention who shall convene promptly at the call of the National Committeeman after their election and nominate the National Committee representatives and such other officers as are required by the Democratic National Committee.

(b) The State Convention shall confirm the nominations for Presidential Electors certified by the several districts and, in addition thereto, shall nominate two Presidential Electors at Large.

Sec. 30. Such delegates (or alternates of absent delegates), as may be present at any Democratic Convention shall be allowed to cast the whole vote to which their precinct or county may be entitled.

Sec. 31. In all conventions provided for by this plan, after a vote is cast, there shall be no change in such vote until the final result of the ballot shall be announced by the chairman of said convention.

Sec. 32. The chairman of the different county conventions shall certify the list of delegates and alternates to the State Convention, and a certified list of said delegates and alternates to the secretary of the State Executive Committee.

Sec. 33. The secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee shall make up a roll of all delegates and alternates from the several counties and transmit the same to the chairman of the State Convention.

Sec. 34. In all conventions a nomination may be made by any majority, even though it be a fraction of a vote.

Sec. 35. In all State Conventions it shall be the duty of the delegates from the several counties to choose one of their number chairman, whose name shall be reported to the president of such convention, and whose duty it shall be to cast the vote of his county as directed, and the vote as announced by him shall be recorded unless some delegate from that county shall challenge its accuracy, in which event it shall be the duty of the president of the convention to cause the roll of delegates from that county to be called, when the vote of such county shall be tabulated and recorded according to the response of its delegates; but in no event shall the vote of one county be challenged by a delegate from another county.

Rotation of State Senators in Districts Composed of More Than One County

Sec. 36. That in all State Senatorial Districts composed of more than one county, in which it has been the custom to concede the right to nominate a senator to one county of the district, by a plan of rotation or otherwise the same shall remain in full force and effect until terminated as herein provided.

The executive committees of the several counties composing such Senatorial District may hereafter adopt a plan for the nomination of candidates for the State Senate by one or more counties composing such district, but such plan shall not be effective until the executive committee of each of the counties composing the district shall, by a majority vote, approve such plan and file with the chairman of the State Executive Committee a copy of the resolution approving the same. The agreement in any senatorial district composed of only two counties may be terminated by a majority vote of the county executive committee of any one of the counties and in districts of more than two counties by a majority vote of each of the executive committees of at least two counties, provided that notice of the termination of such agreement must be filed with the chairman of the State Executive Committee at least 120 days in advance of the date of the primary election at which the candidates for the General Assembly are to be nominated. The chairman of the State Executive Committee shall promptly notify the State Board of Elections of all such agreements and of the termination thereof.

Nomination of Candidates for County and Township Offices and for the General Assembly in Counties Not Under Primary Law

Sec. 37. In all counties in which the selection of candidates for members of the General Assembly and county and township offices is not provided for by the primary law, nominations shall be made in the following manner:

(a) The county democratic executive committee shall meet and set a time and place for holding a county convention for the nomination of candidates for the aforesaid offices, and shall also set the time and places for holding the necessary preliminary precinct meetings, and thereupon the chairman of the county executive committee shall issue a call for the precinct meetings and the county convention, notice of which call shall be sent to the precinct officials and published in such manner and form as shall be directed by the said county executive committee.

(b) At the meeting held in each precinct in pursuance of said notice, delegates and alternates to represent it in the county convention shall be elected from the body of the Democratic voters of the precinct; and said delegates or alternates, or such of them as shall attend the county convention shall be entitled to vote the full Democratic strength of their precinct in the nomination of candidates and upon all questions which may come before said county convention.

If there is a failure to hold a precinct meeting in pursuance of said notice, or if said meeting shall fail to elect delegates to represent it in said convention, the precinct executive committee shall appoint delegates and alternates from the Democratic voters of the precinct.

(c) Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every 25 Democratic votes, and one vote for fractions over 12 Democratic votes cast by the precinct for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election: provided that every precinct shall be entitled to cast at least one vote in the county convention, and each precinct may appoint as many delegates to said convention as it may see fit, not exceeding three delegates and three alternates for each vote to which said precinct may be entitled in the county convention.

(d) The precinct meetings shall be presided over by the chairman of the precinct committee, but in his absence, the vice chairman of the committee shall preside, and in the absence of both the chairman and vice chairman, any member of the committee may preside.

(e) The county executive committee shall have power to make any rules with regard to holding precinct meetings which it may deem proper, not inconsistent with the rules prescribed in this plan; it shall be the duty of said committee to prepare and furnish all forms and blanks needed in making the returns from said precinct meetings, and any reported challenges and appeals therefrom.

Appointment of Democratic Members of County Board of Elections

Sec. 38. The chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee in each county shall, before submitting to the State Chairman recommendations as to Democratic members of the county Board of Elections in such county, call a meeting of the democratic executive committee of the county and submit such recommendations for the approval of the executive committee, and only when such recommendations are approved by a majority of the committee present, shall same be submitted to the State Chairman by the county chairman. The time of such meeting of the respective county executive committees for the purpose of passing on such recommendations shall be fixed by the State Chairman.

No Chairman of a County Democratic Executive Committee shall be eligible to serve as a member of a County Board of Elections.

Miscellaneous Provisions

Sec. 39. In the several counties of the State where primaries are provided for by law, whether optional or mandatory, this plan of organization shall nevertheless be followed in all matters not inconsistent with such laws.

Sec. 40. In the nomination of candidates for municipal offices to be voted for in any town or city election, where the same is not controlled by charter or legislative enactment, a municipal democratic executive committee may be created for the purpose of facilitating the orderly selection of such candidates. The committee shall be composed of five residents of the municipality, at least two of whom shall be women, to be elected biennially at a meeting of all members of the regular precinct executive committee or committees who reside in the municipality, the meeting to be called and presided over by the chairman of the county democratic executive committee. It shall be the sole function of any municipal democratic executive committee created under the provisions of this section to supervise and direct the selection of candidates for municipal offices, and in so doing, the committee shall follow in principle the procedure set out in Section 37 hereof, and to that end, the committee may formulate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary, practicable, and fair in applying in principle the procedure set out in said Section 37. The committee shall elect from its membership a chairman and vice chairman, one of whom shall be a woman; and all vacancies in membership shall be filled by the committee.

Filling Vacancies Among Candidates and Selecting Candidates in Special Elections

Sec. 41. Vacancies shall be filled among candidates, and the selection of candidates shall be as prescribed by G. S. 163-145 as follows:

FILLING VACANCIES AMONG CANDIDATES. In the event that any person nominated in any primary election, or a person who has been declared nominated without opposition after the time for filing notice of candidacy has expired, as the candidate of a political party for a State Office, including the office of U. S. Senator, shall die, resign or for any reason become ineligible or disqualified before the date of the ensuing general election, the vacancy in the nomination caused thereby shall be filled by the action of the State Executive Committee of such political party in which the vacancy occurred; in the event of such a vacancy in the nomination of a candidate for a district office, including the offices of Representative in the Congress of the United States, Judge of the Superior Court, Solicitor or State Senator in a Senatorial District composed of more than one county, the same shall be filled by the action of the appropriate executive committee for such district of such political party in which the vacancy occurred; and in the event of such vacancy in the nominations of a candidate for a county office, or the State House of Representatives, or the State Senate in a district composed of only one county, and including the county entitled to furnish the Senator under a rotation agreement as provided for in G. S. Section 163-113, the same shall be filled by the action of the executive committee of the party affected thereby in the county wherein such vacancy occurred; provided that where the general election ballots have already been printed before the vacancy occurs then G. S. Section 163-153 shall apply. Provided that except in case of the death of a candidate who is required by law to file his Notice of Candidacy with a County Board of Elections no substitution of candidates may be made after the primary or convention except by order of the County Board of Elections for good cause shown.

In the event that any vacancy in any elective office, except a county office other than the office of Clerk of Superior Court, should occur at any time within ten days prior to the closing of the filing time as now prescribed by law for the office in which such vacancy occurs or after such closing of the filing time and thirty days prior to the next general election, a nomination shall be made by the proper executive committee of all political parties as above provided, and the names of the party candidates so nominated shall be printed on the official general election ballots, provided that where the general election ballots have already been printed before the vacancy occurs, then the provisions of G. S. Section 163-153 shall apply; and in the event of any such vacancy arising in any elective office more than ten days prior to the closing of the filing time, as now prescribed by law, for candidates to file for the office affected, nominations of party candidates for such office shall be made in the ensuing primary election, and all candidates for said office shall file their notices of candidacy with the proper Board of Elections as is provided for in G. S. Sections 163-119 and 163-120; provided that in all special elections held for Congressmen the provisions of G. S. Section 163-105 shall apply.

In the event of a vacancy in the office of a Clerk of a Superior Court within thirty days prior to a general election, then the nomination of a party candidate shall be made by the County Executive Committee.

Sec. 42. The right of appeal shall lie from any subordinate committee or convention to the committee or convention next superior thereto, and in all county or state conventions appeals shall first be referred to the committee on Credentials and Appeals, or a special committee provided by the convention, and the findings and reports of such committee had before action thereon by the convention.

Sec. 43. It shall be the duty of the county executive committees and their chairman to make such reports and furnish such information to the chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee and chairman of the several district committees as the said State and district chairmen may desire.

Sec. 43-A. The State Democratic Executive Committee shall appoint a committee of three whose duty it shall be to audit, not less frequently than biennially, the financial accounts and balances of the Committee.

Amendments to Plan of Organization

Sec. 44. The State Democratic Executive Committee shall, by a majority vote of the full committee, have power to amend this plan of organization.

The foregoing is the plan of organization of the Democratic party of North Carolina as adopted by the State Democratic Executive Committee, at a meeting held in the city of Raleigh on the 5th day of March, 1918, together with all amendments thereto up to and including a regular meeting of said committee held in the City of Raleigh on April 8, 1960.

NORTH CAROLINA REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM 1960

Issued by

NORTH CAROLINA REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE

We, the Republican Party of North Carolina, do rededicate ourselves to the principles of good, equal and fair Government promulgated by the founder of our party, Abraham Lincoln. We believe his concluding remarks in his Gettysburg Address, which read as follows, "That Government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth," express the principles of our party.

We believe that Government ought never to do what people in their separate and individual capacities can do for themselves. Our free enterprise economy, relying upon the initiative, courage and capacity of our citizens, has provided an abundance unparalleled in the history of the world and must not be destroyed by Governmental competition and interference.

We, the Republican Party of North Carolina, pledge ourselves to be guided by the following statement of our beliefs and objectives:

National Affairs

We wholeheartedly commend the Republican National administration under the leadership of our great President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and our Vice President, Richard M. Nixon. We are thankful that this Republican administration has returned our Government to the fundamental principles requiring honesty, integrity and ability from its public servants.

We believe that the most fundamental issue facing our Government today is the necessity for it to live within its means and further, that it adopt a long-range policy of reducing its National debt so that ultimately the Nine Billion Dollars plus paid annually as interest may be used either for legitimate Government operations or preferably returned to the citizens of this Country as a result of substantial and continued reduction of taxes.

We believe in a continued policy of reversing the trend toward centralization of power in Washington and a return of such power and responsibility to the States and local communities. We recommend the restoration of more and more rights and privileges to the State and to citizens thereof as contemplated by the draftsman of the Constitution of the United States.

We believe that communism still represents not only a distinct threat to the world at large but a continued threat internally to our own country. We recommend a continuing and determined fight against communism, both in our own Country and abroad.

We are proud of the Republican leadership that has re-established peace throughout the world; that has created the highest level of prosperity, the highest national income, the highest employment record, and the highest hourly wages ever enjoyed in the history of this Nation and that while the Nation is at peace; that has consistently fought for a sound fiscal policy and has re-established the confidence of the people in the morals and integrity and competence of their Government.

State Affairs

We believe that this State and its citizens will never realize their full potential growth until we have a true two-party system in the State. The Democrat^{ic} Party has for many years controlled the Government, and thus, to a large extent, the progress of the citizens of our State. We believe that the one-party system as practiced by the Democrat^{ic} politicians and leaders in this State is diametrically opposed to the best interests of its citizens.

We advocate the adoption of the following policies and principles in this great State of North Carolina.

Constitutional Reform

1. The State of North Carolina is now governed under a constitution adopted in 1868, which is not only one of the most antiquated in the United States but which is now a chaotic instrument because of amendment after amendment. We recommend that the Constitution be rewritten to properly take care of present day needs.

2. The Constitution provides for periodic reapportioning and redistricting by the General Assembly. The Democrat politicians have consistently ignored and violated their oath to support the Constitution in this respect and have refused to re-district and reapportion in conformity with the Constitution. We would require in the revised Constitution that the Secretary of State reapportion after each census in accordance with the Constitutional formula.

3. We recommend that the Governor be given the power to veto acts of the General Assembly, but that the General Assembly be further given the power to override such veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses on roll call.

4. We further recommend that the Constitution prohibit the appointment of any member of the General Assembly to a Board, Agency, or position of emolument where such Board, Agency or position was created by that session of the Legislature.

5. The Republican Party in North Carolina advocates greater rights for the States and it equally advocates greater rights for the local governing bodies. The Republican Party advocates more home rule and less Raleigh rule for the counties, cities and towns in North Carolina and recommends that those matters which are of purely local interest be handled by the appropriate local Governmental agency.

Election Procedure

1. The Republican Party continuously, emphatically and wholeheartedly condemns the provision allowing civilians to vote by absentee ballot. It provides the perfect vehicle for any unscrupulous politician. The Democrat Party in North Carolina, has in effect admitted the evils of it inasmuch as they abolished its use in primary elections.

2. The Republican Party advocates that a citizen sign his registration when appearing before the Registrar for registering to vote; and that he also be required to sign an application for voting, and that this application serve as the poll record of the voter.

3. The Anti-Jonas Law, adopted by the General Assembly in 1955 for the purpose of defeating Congressman Charles Raper Jonas, has not yet been repealed despite the fact that its obvious intention was not only to deprive the voter of his vote, but actually to give his vote to the opposition candidate.

4. The members of the State Board of Elections and the County Board of Elections for the Republican Party should be elected by the applicable party leadership and not selected by Democrat politicians.

5. The Republican Party advocates the vote for nineteen year olds.

6. Legislation should be adopted by the General Assembly permitting the State to share the costs of voting machines. We believe that their refusal to do so was based solely on the fact that the Democrat politicians realized that the use of voting machines would prevent them from continuing their illegal methods of retaining control.

Fiscal Policy

We believe that to foster, in the framework of a free choice economy, high employment, stability of the economy, and to eradicate the corrosion of inflation, the following policies are essential:

1. All Government expenditures in the State must meet the test of a true contribution to State economic progress—not to special interests.

2. An all-inclusive policy of operating within the annual income of the State.

3. The prevention of increases in the State bureaucracy and in the number of employees in order that the State income will not be dissipated in the support of ineffective bureaus created to provide employment for political reasons.

4. The improvement of our tax system to provide more incentives for economic progress and reforms in the entire tax structure so as to produce a more equitable and healthy climate for not only businesses but for all of the citizens of the State. For instance, the wholesale grocery sales tax under the present law applies to our independent wholesale groceries but does not apply to chain stores—it should be either amended to apply to both categories, or be eliminated entirely.

Agriculture

The Republican leadership advocates that the economic position of the farmers in this State be improved by State encouragement in the development of new markets for farm products; for new agriculture products for existing markets; for the development of locally and privately owned agricultural processing operations, and for the development of locally and privately owned distribution systems for farm products.

Production controls and taxpayer subsidies are not consistent with a strong farm economy—there must be an orderly return to free markets for farm products.

Labor

The Republican Party is for the working men and women of America. We are determined that these people shall prosper and share in the fruits of our free enterprise economy. We find that under the Democrat administration the average factory wage is the lowest of the fifty States of the United States.

The Republican Party seeks to achieve:

1. A high level of employment and low unemployment.
2. Better job opportunities for all and reduction of the causes of unemployment.
3. Higher living standards based upon increased productivity.
4. Better balances between labor and management in the area of free collective bargaining, with only the minimum of Government intervention that is needed to protect the public interest and prevent the abuse of power.
5. Scrupulous protection of the rights and freedom of individual union members.
6. We recommend a minimum wage of One Dollar ($1.00) per hour and elimination of unjust exemptions.

We propose the following measures to check existing abuses by labor unions:

1. The prohibition of the secondary boycott, refusal to handle goods, and other means by which pressure is brought on labor or business organizations not involved in a labor dispute.
2. The prohibition of unjustified organization or "blackmail" picketing.
3. The assurance that union elections will be conducted by secret ballot in a truly free and fair manner.
4. The full disclosure of union finances for the benefit of dues-paying members.
5. The elimination of the use of force and violence to compel individuals to join labor unions.

Minority Rights

The Republican Party of North Carolina reaffirms its historic position in the fundamental truth as stated in Article I of the Constitution of the State of North Carolina that all persons are created equal before law; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

We encourage all loyal Americans to manifest a continuing interest publically and privately in sound programs to protect these rights of all minority groups.

We recognize and advocate the right of all persons to vote as their conscience dictates.

We, the Republican Party of North Carolina, find this great minority party in our State is the most discriminated against and excluded people of the South. This minority group has been denied its rightful representation on State Boards, Agencies, Commissions and Institutions, and likewise is discriminated against on the local County level.

We believe in fair play, honesty and justice in the political, economic and social activities of our State.

We demand that our great minority party be granted minority representation on each and every Board, Agency, Commission and Institution, and we likewise demand minority representation for the minority party on the County level, be this minority party in the County Republican or Democrat.

Liquor

The Republican Party has long advocated a statewide referendum with regard to the sale of alcoholic beverages and reaffirms this stand. We pledge that if we are given control of the organization of the General Assembly, we shall not permit the issue to be pidgeon-holed in Committee.

Highway Safety

We believe that additional protection is needed by the traveling public against habitual speeders and against those who drive under an intoxicated condition. We believe that all persons should be thoroughly protected in our courts, but we further believe that those driving under the influence of liquor or drugs should be prosecuted diligently and their licenses revoked so that they may not endanger the safety of the traveling public.

Public Health

North Carolina is at the bottom of the list of States in spending for public health. The per capita spent by this State is Seventy Cents (70¢). Despite the fact that the local health departments were set up on the basis that the State would contribute Fifty per cent (50%) on the cost of operating same, the State now is contributing only Seventeen per cent (17%). The Republican Party advocates that additional sums of money be appropriated so that public health service rendered in this State be commensurate with that rendered in other States. The Republican Party further advocates the continued effort to compel cleaning up of polluted rivers and streams within a definite time limit.

Public Welfare

The Democrat Party of North Carolina, despite its assurances of its interest in the welfare of the people of the State of North Carolina, has in the last session of the Legislature, decreased the assistance to be granted to dependent children and the aged and totally and permanently disabled. The reduction was approximately Ten per cent (10%)—welfare payments in the State of North Carolina are the lowest in the Forty Nine States. While the Legislators in the last session of the General Assembly saw fit to increase their travel allowance for weekend journeys home, they did not see fit to provide sufficient funds to maintain the welfare payments at even the previous low rate.

Public Education

Of all the functions of our Government, none is more important than that of educating the coming generation. In no area of the Government has the Democrat Party had a record of greater failure than in the field of basic education and in no area has that party made a more false claim of good Government.

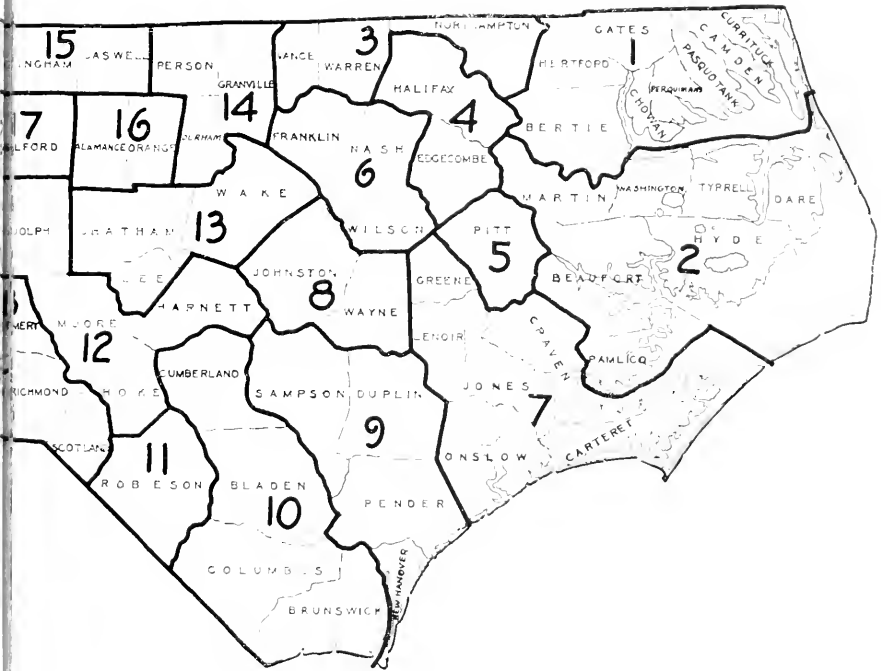

The Democrat Party has had complete control of our system of education for the past sixty years, not allowing a Republican member on the State Board of Education, nor a member on any County Board of Education. Yet the average child in North Carolina has less than eight years of school.

This was reflected in the Korean War when forty per cent (40%) of our young men failed the Armed Forces Qualification Tests against an average across the Nation of sixteen per cent (16%). Indeed, our average adult citizen has not even completed elementary school and we rank 45th in the Nation in the measure of educational accomplishment. Under their long tenure in office we find only two states crowding more students into classrooms.

State Sena

ial Districts

We rank next to the bottom among the states in the percentage of our graduates who go to college—less than four out of ten. Every comparison that can be made finds North Carolina at or near the bottom in public education. Meanwhile, in a recent platform of that party we find them saying: "All in all we can truly say that North Carolina under the guidance of the Democrat Party has established a fine system of public education, which is UNSURPASSED in any of the States of this Union."

Proof of the results of one party rule is available to the public. We rank along toward the top of the States in juvenile delinquency; one out of every twelve children born in our State is born out of wedlock; we are at the top of the list of States in aggravated assault crimes.

The Republican Party feels this record in education is shameful and that it is time to elect another political party to direct and control the education of our youth.

Compulsory Attendance

A good many years ago the Democrat General Assembly put in the record a law requiring school attendance; yet, according to the "Tar Heel Guide", it has been recently pointed out that only Seventy Three (73%) per cent of our eligible school children attend school. On numerous occasions bills have been introduced to appropriate adequate funds to provide sufficient personnel to enforce the truancy laws. These bills have consistently been killed. Republicans have regularly supported such bills.

Teachers' Pay

For many years the Republicans in the General Assembly have to a man supported every effort that has been made to pay school teachers an adequate salary. In recent sessions they have unanimously supported a much higher percentage of increase than the Democrats would pass. In the last session the Republicans supported the Holmes amendment to the revenue bill which would have given teachers an additional Seven per cent (7%) salary raise. This bill passed by four majority on the first roll call vote but before the next roll call could be had four Democrats changed their vote and the measure lost. We believe the only way to have and hold good teachers is to pay them a wage that is comparable to their training, ability, experience and position in the community.

State Support of Schools

The Republican Party continues its stand for full support by the State of our Public Schools.

Community Colleges

The Republican Party believes that the idea of Community Colleges be expanded to include other cities than those now having them. It provides higher educational training on the local level where our young people can receive the advanced training at less cost to them.

County Boards of Education

The Republican Party believes that no greater farce is perpetrated upon the people of North Carolina than the scheme by which the Democrats select the County Boards of Education. They nominate in their County Democrat Conventions their candidates for the County Board members and send them down to the State Legislature where they are placed in an omnibus bill setting up all the County Boards of Education of the State. The Republicans haven't a chance in the world to get a man on their County Boards. In turn, these Democrat County Boards elect the County Superintendents and also the District school boards. As may be expected these are Democrats and in most instances the teachers they hire are all Democrats. It is our opinion that this is a gross abuse of political power that ought not to be and we believe the matter should be forcefully presented to the people of the State.

When the Republicans were last in power in this State the County Boards of Education and the County Superintendent were elected by the voters of the County. We believe and advocate that should be the law now. It would be a great boost to public education if every citizen could feel and know that he had a part in the selection of the school boards.

Conclusion

For sixty years one party has held power of the government of the State of North Carolina. While much has been accomplished during this period of one party rule, North Carolina today finds itself behind most of the other states of this Nation in basic areas of governmental responsibility. Our educational system, our courts, our constitution and the economic welfare of our citizens lags behind most of the other states. The party too long in power has become insensitive to the needs of the people of North Carolina. In this year of 1960 the Republican Party of North Carolina offers this platform, and high caliber candidates for public office, to provide the people of this state with the means to make a change for the better.

(As adopted February 27, 1960)

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Adopted in Convention, Feb. 27, 1960, at Raleigh

PREAMBLE

We citizens of North Carolina, members of the great Republican Party, dedicated to the sound principles fostered by that Party, conscious of our civic responsibilities and rights, firm in our determination to give our strength to preserving the American principle that government ought and must be of all the people, by all the people, and for all the people, do, for the purpose of uniting and co-ordinating our efforts for maximum power and efficiency, herewith establish this instrument, The Plan of Organization of the Republican Party of the State of North Carolina.

ARTICLE I

THE PRECINCT AS A UNIT

1. The unit of party action shall be the election precinct. In every precinct in each General Election year, the County Chairman shall call precinct meetings within the dates designated by the Chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee after giving ten (10) days written notice to each Precinct Chairman and after ten (10) days notice of such meeting in a newspaper of general circulation within the County.

2. Precinct meetings shall elect a Precinct Committee of five or more voters, one of whom shall be designated as Chairman and one as Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), and a Secretary. The members and officers of the Precinct Committee shall hold their places for two years and until their successors are chosen. Precinct meetings shall elect one delegate and one alternate to the County Convention, and one additional delegate and alternate for each fifty votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for Governor at the last General Election.

3. Other precinct meetings may be held at such times and places as shall be designated by the Chairman of the Precinct Committee after first giving ten (10) days notice of such meeting.

4. In case of death or resignation of any officer or member of the Precinct Committee, such vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the Precinct Committee. In the event any Chairman of any precinct fails to act, then the Chairman of the County Committee shall appoint someone to serve in his or her place until a Precinct meeting can be called and the new Chairman elected. The County Chairman shall call such a meeting within thirty (30) days.

ARTICLE II

COUNTY CONVENTION AND COMMITTEE

1. A County Convention shall be called in each general election year by the Chairman of the County Committee, at the County Seat, within the dates set by the Chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee, after giving fifteen (15) days notice thereof to all Precinct Chairmen and after giving fifteen (15) days notice of such Convention in a newspaper of general circulation within the County. The alternates and delegates elected in the precinct meetings shall sit as delegates and alternates in the County Convention.

2. The County Convention shall choose a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), a Secretary, and such other officers as may be deemed necessary. Such biennial County Convention shall further elect one delegate and one alternate to the District and State Conventions for every two hundred votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican nominee for Governor at the latest election in said county. Every county shall have at least one vote. In addition thereto, each county shall be entitled to one additional delegate and alternate for each Republican member of the State Legislature elected from the County in the preceding election.

3. The County Convention shall elect a County Executive Committee of five or more voters, who shall hold their places for a term of two years, and until their successors are elected. Nominations may be made by the precincts for membership on the County Committee. The County Officers, elected in Convention, shall be members of the County Executive Committee. This Committee shall cooperate with the District and State Committees on all elections, shall encourage qualified candidates for office within the county, and shall have active management of Party affairs within its boundaries.

4. The County Executive Committee shall meet at least once a year upon the call of the Chairman, and upon the petition of one-third of the members of the Committee, if the Chairman shall fail or refuse to call a meeting.

5. The County Executive Committee, in any county where desirable, may elect a County Executive Board to act in its behalf on any matters delegated to it by the County Executive Committee.

6. The Chairman of the County Committee shall have general supervision of the affairs of the Party within his County. He shall issue the call for the County Convention, preside at all meetings of the County Executive Committee, shall obtain and preserve a list of registered Republican voters within the County, and shall have such other duties as may be prescribed by the County or State Executive Committees. The Vice-Chairman shall function as Chairman of the County Committee in the absence of the Chairman. The Secretary shall keep all minutes and records, and shall keep a roster of all precinct officers and Committeemen. Such records shall be available, upon request, to any registered Republican within the County.

7. In case of death or resignation of any officer or member of the Committee, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by the County Executive Committee.

8. Any officer or member of the County Committee may be removed by a two-thirds vote of the Committee after being furnished with notice of the charges against him, signed by not less than one-third of the members of the Committee and allowing him thirty (30) days to appear and defend himself; provided further that said cause for removal shall be confined to gross inefficiency or party disloyalty. Such removal may be appealed to the Congressional District Committee and their decision shall be final.

9. When any county fails to properly organize, the District Chairman shall appoint someone to serve as County Chairman until a County Convention can be called and a permanent Chairman elected. The appointed Chairman shall call such Convention within forty-five (45) days.

ARTICLE III

CONGRESSIONAL, JUDICIAL, AND SENATORIAL COMMITTEES

1. The District Committees shall be composed of the Chairman of the several County Committees within the District, and a Chairman, and Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman), and Secretary of said District, who shall be elected biennially at the District Conventions. The District Committees shall manage all District campaigns, cooperate with the State Committee on all State campaigns, and shall encourage qualified candidates for public office within their respective Districts.

2. The Congressional District Conventions shall be called by their respective Chairmen within the dates designated by the Chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee upon twenty (20) days notice of the time and place for holding same. Upon the failure, for any reason, of the District Chairman to call a District Convention, the said call may be issued by the Secretary of the District Committee.

3. In every General Election year, the Congressional District Convention shall elect three members of the State Executive Committee, plus one additional member for every 3,000 votes or major fraction thereof cast within the District for the Republican candidate for Governor in the preceding election. They shall hold their office for a period of two years or until their successors are elected and qualified.

4. In every Presidential Election year, the Congressional District Convention shall further elect one Presidential Elector, and two delegates and two alternates to the Republican National Convention.

ARTICLE IV

STATE CONVENTIONS

A State Convention shall be called in every General Election year by the Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee after forty-five (45) days notice thereof to all members of the State Executive Committee, all Chairmen of the several County Executive Committees, and the Chairmen of all District Committees, of the time and place of holding same. In the call for the State Convention the Chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee shall designate the dates for the precinct meetings, and the County and District Conventions. The State Convention biennially shall elect a State Chairman and a Vice-Chairman (one of whom shall be a woman). In each Presidential election year, the State Convention shall elect, for a term of four years, a man and a woman, for National Committeeman and National Committeewoman respectively. The State Convention shall further elect, in every Presidential election year, four delegates and four alternates to the National Republican Convention.

The State Committee shall have the power to elect a Secretary and an Assistant Secretary (one of whom shall come from the Young Republicans), a Treasurer, and such other officers which it may deem necessary, who shall serve for a term of two years and until their successors are chosen. The State Committee shall formulate and provide for the execution of such plans and measures as it may deem conducive to the best interests of the Republican Party. It shall manage all State campaigns and encourage qualified candidates for State offices. The State Committee shall have active management of all affairs of the Party within the State, and shall delegate such duties as it deems proper, from time to time, to the Republican Executive Board.

4. The State Chairman shall call meetings of the State Executive Committee, when the needs of the Party so demand, after giving fifteen (15) days notice of time, place, and purpose of said meeting. He shall preside at all meetings of the State Committee, and shall have such other duties as may be prescribed by the State Executive Committee. The State Chairman may delegate authority to the District Chairman, where desirable, to act in his behalf on specific matters.

5. In the case of death or resignation of any officer of the State Executive Committee, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by the State Executive Committee. The Republican State Executive Board shall keep accurate accounts of its proceedings and shall make reports to the State Executive Committee annually.

3. The Republican State Executive Board shall meet at least twice a year, upon call of the State Chairman or, upon the failure of the Chairman, upon the call of the State Vice Chairman. Rule 14. Reports of Committees.—Every Senator presenting a report of a committee shall endorse the report with the name of the committee and, in case of a minority report, with the names of the members making the report. Every report of the committee upon a bill or resolution which is not considered at the time of making the report, or laid on the table by a vote of the Senate, shall stand upon the general orders with the bill or resolution; and the report of the committee shall show that a majority of the committee were present and voted. [47, 33]

Rule 45. Unfavorable report by committee.—(a) All bills reported unfavorably by the committee to which they were referred, and having no minority report, shall lie upon the table, but may be taken from the table, and placed upon the calendar by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting. [68]

(b) When a bill is reported by a committee with an unfavorable report, but accompanied by a minority report, the minority report shall be placed on the calendar and considered the following day, and the question before the Senate shall be “The adoption of the Minority Report” and if failing to be adopted by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed upon the unfavorable calendar. Before a minority report can be considered by the Senate, it must be signed by at least three (3) members of the committee who were present and who voted on the bill when the bill was considered in the committee. [52a]

Rule 46. Recall of bill from committee.—When a bill has been introduced and referred to a committee, if after ten days the committee has failed to report thereon, then the author of the bill may, after three day’s public notice given in the Senate, on motion supported by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present and voting, recall the bill from the committee to the floor of the Senate for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the Senators present may direct. [51, 67]

Rule 47. Calendar; order to be followed.—The President and the Principal Clerk of the Senate shall see that all bills are acted upon by the Senate in the order in which they stand upon the calendar, unless otherwise ordered as hereinafter provided. The calendar shall include the numbers and titles of bills and joint resolutions which have passed the House of Representatives and have been received by the Senate for concurrence. [22]

Rule 48. Considering bills out of regular order.—Except as provided in Rule 49, any bill or other matter may be taken up out of order upon order of the President or upon motion sustained by a majority of the membership present and voting. [21]

Rule 49. Third reading requirements.—No bill on its third reading shall be acted on out of the regular order in which it stands on the Calendar, and no bill shall be acted upon on its third reading the same day on which it passed its second reading unless so ordered by two-thirds of the Senators present. [63]

Rule 50. Special orders.—Any bill or other matter may be made a special order for a particular day or hour by a vote of the majority of the Senators voting, and if it shall not be completed on that day, it shall be returned to its place on the Calendar, unless it is made a special order for another day; and when a special order is under consideration it shall take precedence of any special order or subsequent order for the day, but such subsequent order may be taken up immediately after the previous special order has been disposed of. [53]

Rule 51. Procedure when necessary number of Senators not present.—If, on taking the question on a bill, it appears that a constitutional quorum is not present, or if the bill requires a vote of certain proportion of all the Senators to pass it, and it appears that such number is not present, the bill shall be again read and the question taken thereon; if the bill fails a second time for the want of the necessary number being present and voting, the bill shall not be finally lost, but shall be returned to the calendar in its proper order. [70]

Rule 52. Effect of defeated bill.—After a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject-matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the qualified membership of the Senate: Provided, no local bill shall be held by the Chair as embodying the provisions, or being identical with any State-wide measure which has been laid upon the table or failed to pass any of its readings. [49, 69]

Rule 53. Taking bill from table.—No bill which has been laid upon the table upon motion shall be taken therefrom except by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present. [65]

Rule 54. Amending titles of bills.—When a bill is materially modified or the scope of its application extended or decreased, or if the county or counties to which it applies is changed, the title of the bill shall be changed by the Senator introducing the bill or by the committee having it in charge, or by the Principal Clerk, so as to indicate the full purport of the bill as amended and the county or counties to which it applies. [48]

Rule 55. Conference committees.—Whenever the Senate declines or refuses to concur in amendments put by the House to a bill originating in the Senate, or refuses to adopt a substitute adopted by the House for a bill originating in the Senate, a conference committee shall be appointed upon motion made, consisting of the number named in the motion; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the Senate and House. In considering matters in difference between the Senate and House committed to the conferees only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report shall not be amended. Except as herein set out, the rules of the United States House of Representatives shall govern the appointment, conduct, and reports of the conferees. [71]

Rule 56. Engrossment of bills.—The Committee on Engrossed Bills shall examine all bills, amendments, and resolutions before they go out of the possession of the Senate, and make a report when they find them correctly engrossed: Provided, that when a bill is typewritten and has no interlineations therein, and has passed the Senate without amendment, it shall be sent to the House without engrossment, unless otherwise ordered. [31]

Rule 57. Certification of passage of bills.—The Principal Clerk shall certify the passage of bills by the Senate, with the date thereof, together with the fact whether passed by vote of three-fifths or two-thirds of the Senate, whenever such vote may be required by the Constitution or laws of the State. [23]

Rule 58. Transmittal of bills to House.—No bill shall be sent from the Senate on the day of its passage except on the last day of the session, unless otherwise ordered by a vote of two-thirds of the Senators present. [64]

Rule 60. Duties of pages.—The pages of the Senate shall be responsible to and under the direction of the President at all times when the Senate is in session, and shall not exceed fourteen in number. They shall report to the Principal Clerk at other times to be assigned such duties as he may direct and shall be under his supervision. [19]

Rule 61. Principal Clerk responsible for engrossing office.—The office of the Engrossing Clerk is discontinued, and the duties of that officer as heretofore performed by the Engrossing Clerk shall devolve upon the Principal Clerk, who is charged with the responsibility therefor. [25]

The President of the Senate and the Principal Clerk may appoint additional clerks upon the recommendation of the Rules Committee. [34]

3. Motions
4. The Previous Question
5. Voting
6. Committees
7. Handling of Bills
8. Legislative Officers and Employees
9. Privileges of the Hall
10. General Rules

Rule 1. Convening Hour. The House shall convene each legislative day at the hour fixed by the House on the preceding legislative day; in case the House adjourned on the preceding legislative day without having fixed an hour for reconvening, the House shall reconvene on the next legislative day at twelve o'clock noon.

Rule 2. Opening the Session. At the convening hour on each legislative day the Speaker shall call the members to order, and shall have the session opened with prayer.

Rule 3. Quorum. (a) A quorum consists of a majority of the qualified members of the House.

(b) On the point of no quorum being raised, the doors shall be closed and the Clerk shall call the roll of the House, after which the names of the absentees shall again be called over. Fifteen members, including the Speaker, are authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, and may order that absentees for whom no sufficient excuses are made shall be taken into custody as they appear, or wherever they may be found by special messenger appointed for that purpose.

Rule 4. Approval of Journal. The Committee on the Journal shall examine daily the Journal of the House before the hour of convening to determine if the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded.

Immediately following the opening prayer and upon appearance of a quorum, the Speaker shall call for the report of the Committee on the Journal as to whether or not the proceedings of the previous day have been correctly recorded; the Speaker shall then cause the Journal to be approved. Without objection, the Journal shall stand approved.

Rule 5. Order of Business of the Day. After the approval of the Journal of the preceding day, the House shall proceed to business in the following order:

- (1) The receiving of petitions, memorials and papers addressed to the General Assembly or to the House.
- (2) Reports of standing committees.
- (3) Reports of select committees.
- (4) Introduction of Resolutions.
- (5) Introduction of Bills.
- (6) The unfinished business of the preceding day.
- (7) Bills, resolutions, petitions, memorials, messages, and other papers on the Calendar in their exact numerical order, unless displaced by the orders of the day; but messages, and motions to elect officers shall always be in order.
- (8) Reading of Notices and Announcements.

Conduct of Debate

Rule 6. Duties and Powers of Speaker. (a) The Speaker shall have general direction of the Hall. He may name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but substitution shall not extend beyond one day, except in case of sickness or by leave of the House.

(b) In the event the Speaker, by reason of physical or mental incapacity, is unable to name a member to perform the duties of the Chair, the chairman or vice-chairman of the Rules Committee shall open the session, and the House shall thereupon proceed to elect one of their members as Speaker pro tempore, who shall perform all of the duties of the Speaker until such time as the Speaker may assume the Chair or name another member to perform the duties of the Chair.

Rule 7. Obtaining Floor. (a) When any member desires recognition for any purpose, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker. No member shall proceed until recognized by the Speaker.

(b) When a member desires to interrupt a member having the floor, he shall first obtain recognition by the Speaker and permission of the member occupying the floor, and when so recognized and such permission is obtained, he may propound a question to the member occupying the floor, but he shall not propound a series of interrogatories or otherwise interrupt the member having the floor; and the Speaker shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.

Rule 8. Questions of Personal Privilege. At any time, upon recognition by the Speaker, any member may arise to speak to a question of personal privilege, and upon objection to his proceeding, the Speaker shall determine if the question is one of privilege.

Rule 9. Points of Order. (a) The Speaker shall decide questions of order and may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose. Any member may appeal from the ruling of the Chair on questions of order; on such appeal no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A $\frac{2}{3}$ vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

(b) When the Speaker calls a member to order, the member shall take his seat. A member called to order may clear a matter of fact, or explain, but shall not proceed in debate so long as the decision stands. If the member appeals from the ruling of the Chair and the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, he shall not; and if the case, in the judgment of the House require it, he shall be liable to censure by the House.

Rule 10. Limitations on Debate. No member shall speak more than twice on the main question, nor longer than thirty minutes for the first speech and fifteen minutes for the second speech, unless allowed to do so by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present; nor shall he speak more than once upon an amendment or motion to commit or postpone, and then not longer than ten minutes. But the House may, by consent of a majority of the members present, suspend the operation of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House, or the Committee on Rules may bring in a special rule that shall be applicable to the debate on any bill.

Rule 11. Reading of papers. When there is a call for the reading of a paper which has been read in the House, and there is objection to such reading, the question shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the House present.

Rule 12. General Decorum. (a) The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum.

(b) Decency of speech shall be observed and personal reflection carefully avoided.

(c) While the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no person shall speak, stand up, walk out of or cross the House, nor when a member is speaking, entertain private discourse, stand up, or pass between the member and the Chair.

(d) Smoking shall not be allowed in the halls, lobbies, or the galleries while the House is in session; except that smoking may be permitted in the lobby in the rear of the Speaker's desk.

Motions

Rule 13. Motions Generally. (a) Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

(b) When a motion is made it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.

(c) After a motion has been stated by the Speaker or read by the Speaker or Clerk it shall be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, with motion, when made by a member, shall be in possession of the House, and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

Rule 14. Motions, Order of Precedence. (a) When in order and every motion is before the House, the question stands as follows:

- Previous question
- To adjourn
- To lay on the table
- To postpone indefinitely
- To postpone to a day certain
- To commit
- To amend an amendment

To amend
To substitute
To pass the bill

(b) When a question is under debate, the following motions only shall be in order, and they shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged:

1. To adjourn
2. To lay on the table
3. To postpone indefinitely
4. To postpone to a day certain
5. To commit
6. To amend

No motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to amend, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Rule 15. Motion to Adjourn. (a) A motion to adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate, and shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

Rule 16. Motion to Table. (a) A motion to table shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to table shall be decided without debate.

(c) A motion to table a bill shall constitute a motion to table the bill and all amendments thereto.

(d) A motion to take an amendment sent up from the floor shall not be construed as a motion to table the principal bill or any other amendment which has been offered thereto, and if such motion is carried, only the amendment shall lie upon the table.

Rule 17. Motion to Reconsider. (a) When a motion has been once made and decided in the affirmative or negative, it is in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding legislative day, unless it may have subsequently passed the Senate; Provided, that unless the vote by which the motion was originally decided was taken by a call of the ayes and noes, any member may move to reconsider.

(b) A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider a motion tabling a motion to reconsider, which shall require a $\frac{2}{3}$ vote.

Rule 18. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely. A motion to postpone indefinitely is always in order except when a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table is before the House; however, after one motion to postpone indefinitely has been decided, another motion to postpone indefinitely shall not be allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session, except upon a $\frac{2}{3}$ vote.

The Previous Question

Rule 19. Previous Question. The previous question may be called only by the member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, by the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or by the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

Rule 20. Form and Effect of Previous Question. (a) The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question now be put?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the "main question" is on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration, including all pending amendments. If amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in inverse order.

(b) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments and debate, except the motion to adjourn made prior to the determination of the previous question. Should the motion to adjourn be made prior to the determination of the previous question the House will vote first on the motion to adjourn and then, if the motion to adjourn fails, the members will vote on the call for the previous question.

(c) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate.

Voting

Rule 21. Stating Questions. (a) The Speaker shall rise to put a question.

(b) Question shall be put in this form, namely, "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say 'Aye,'" and after the affirmation voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say 'No'."

(c) Any member may call for a question to be divided into two or more propositions to be voted on separately, and the Speaker shall determine whether the question admits of such a division.

Rule 22. Determining Questions. Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution of North Carolina, all questions shall be determined by the members present and voting.

Rule 23. Voting by Division. Any member may call for a division of the members upon the question before the result of the vote has been announced. Upon a call for a division, the Speaker shall cause the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative to be determined. Upon a division and count of the House on any question, no member out of his seat shall be counted.

Rule 24. Roll Call Vote. (a) Before a question is put, any member may call for the ayes and noes; and if the call is sustained by one-fifth of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes upon a roll call vote, taken alphabetically.

(b) Every member who is in the hall of the House when the question is put shall give his vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him, and no application to be excused from voting or to explain a vote shall be entertained unless made before the call of the roll. The hall of the House includes the lobbies and offices connected with the hall.

Rule 25. Voting by Absentees. (a) No member shall vote on any question when he was not present when the question was put by the Speaker, except by the consent of the House.

(b) If any member is necessarily absent on temporary business of the House when a vote is taken upon any question, upon entering the House he shall be permitted, on request, to vote, provided that the result shall not be affected thereby.

(c) When a member who is present is paired with an absent member, he shall, when his name is called on a roll call vote, announce the pair, which shall be recorded by the clerk.

Rule 26. Voting by Speaker. In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other cases he may exercise his right to vote, or he may reserve this right until there is a tie; but in no case shall he be allowed to vote twice on the same question.

The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the House. After report, the bill shall again be subject to be debated and amended by sections before a question on its passage be taken.

Rule 32. Introduction of Bills and Resolutions. Every bill shall be introduced in regular order of business, except upon permission of the Speaker or on the report of a committee.

(b) Any member introducing a bill or resolution shall briefly endorse thereon the substance of the same.

Rule 33. Papers Addressed to the House. Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the House shall be presented by the Speaker; a brief statement of the contents thereof may be verbally made by the introducer before reference to a committee, but such papers shall not be debated or decided on the day of their first being read, unless the House shall direct otherwise.

Rule 34. Introduction of Bills, Copies Required. (a) Whenever any resolution or bill is introduced a carbon copy thereof shall be attached thereto, and the Principal Clerk shall cause said carbon copy to be numbered as the original resolution or bill is numbered, and shall cause the same to be available at all times to the member introducing the same.

number of copies shall be immediately returned to the introducer. The Clerk shall stamp the copies with the number stamped upon the original bill.

Rule 35. Duplicating of Bills. The Clerk shall cause such bills as are introduced to be duplicated in such numbers as may be specified by the speaker. On the morning following the delivery of the copies, the Chief Clerk shall cause the Chief Page to have one copy thereof put upon the desk of each member and shall retain the other copies in his office. A sufficient number of copies for the use of the committee to which the bill is referred shall be delivered to the chairman or clerk of that committee by the Chief Page. If the bill is passed by the House the Chief Clerk shall deliver the remaining copies to the Principal Clerk of the Senate for the use of the Senate.

(b) Report Without Prejudice. When a committee reports a bill without prejudice, the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar.

(c) Unfavorable Report. When a committee reports a bill with the recommendation that it be not passed, and no minority report accompanies it, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

(d) Minority Report. When a bill is reported by a committee with a recommendation that it be not passed, but it is accompanied by a minority report signed by at least $\frac{1}{4}$ of the members of the committee who were present and voting when the bill was considered in committee, the question before the House shall be:

"The adoption of the minority report." If the minority report is adopted by majority vote the bill shall be placed on the favorable calendar for consideration. If the minority report fails of adoption by a majority vote, the bill shall be placed on the unfavorable calendar.

Rule 38. Removing Bill from Unfavorable Calendar. A bill may be removed from the unfavorable calendar upon motion carried by a $\frac{2}{3}$ vote. A motion to remove a bill from the unfavorable calendar is not debatable, but the movant may, before making the motion, make a brief and concise statement, not more than five minutes in length, of the reasons for the motion.

Rule 39. Reports on Appropriation and Revenue Bills. All committees, other than the Committee on Appropriations, when favorably reporting any bill which carries an appropriation from the State, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Appropriations for a further report before being acted upon by the House. All committees, other than the Committee on Finance, when favorably reporting any bill which in any way or manner raises revenue or levies a tax or authorizes the issue of bonds, or notes, whether public, public-local, or private, shall indicate same in the report, and said bill shall be referred to the Committee on Finance for a further report before being acted upon by the House.

Rule 40. Recall of Bill from Committee. When a bill has been introduced and referred to a committee, if after ten days the committee has failed to report thereon, then the introducer of the bill or some member designated by him may, after three days' public notice given in the House, on motion supported by a vote of $\frac{2}{3}$ of the members present and voting, recall the same from the committee to the floor of the House for consideration and such action thereon as a majority of the members present may direct.

Rule 41. Calendars. The Clerk of the House shall keep a separate calendar of the public, local, and private bills, and shall number them in the order in which they are introduced, and all bills shall be disposed of in the order they stand upon the Calendar; but the Committee on Rules may at any time arrange the order of precedence in which bills may be considered.

Rule 42. Readings of Bills. (a) Every bill shall receive three readings in the House previous to its passage. The introduction of the bill shall constitute its first reading, and the Speaker shall give notice at each subsequent reading whether it be the second or third reading.

(b) No bill shall be read more than once on the same day without the concurrence of $\frac{2}{3}$ of the members present and voting.

Rule 43. Effect of Defeated Bill. (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of this Rule, after a bill has been tabled or has failed to pass on any of its readings, the contents of such bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be embodied in any other measure. Upon the point or order being raised and sustained by the Chair, such measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a $\frac{2}{3}$ vote.

(b) No local bill shall be held by the Chair to embody the provisions of or to be identical with any statewide measure which has been laid upon the table, or failed to pass any of its readings.

Rule 44. Amendments and Riders. No amendment or rider to a bill before the House shall be in order unless such rider or amendment is germane to the bill under consideration.

Rule 45. Conference Committees. Whenever the House shall decline or refuse to concur in amendments put by the Senate to a bill originating in the House, or shall refuse to adopt a substitute adopted by the Senate for a bill originating in the House, a conference committee shall be appointed upon motion made, consisting of the number named in the motion; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the House and Senate.

(b) Only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report shall not be amended.

(c) Except as herein set out, the rules of the House of Representatives of Congress shall govern the appointment, conduct, and reports of the conferees.

Rule 50. Compensation of Clerks. No clerk, laborer, or other person employed or appointed under Rules 47, 48, and 49 hereof shall receive during such employment, appointment, or service any compensation from any department of the State Government, or from any other source, and there shall not be voted, paid or awarded any additional pay, bonus or gratuity to any of them, but they shall receive only the pay now provided by law for such duties and services.

WAKE

Wake County was formed in 1770 from Johnston, Cumberland, and Orange. Was named in honor of Governor Tryon's wife, whose maiden name was Margaret Wake. Some historians say that the county was named for "Ester Wake," the popular sister of Tryon's wife, but there is no reason to suppose that any such person ever existed. She is purely a creature of the imagination.
